THELOOKIE-LOO LEGEND. In the beginning, the Oracles say, people lived in caves. As they multiplied and became numerous, the need for caves became great throughout the land. And it came to pass that a man named Look and a woman named Loo went forth to seek dwellings and barter for them with their brethren. Look and Loo explored many caves, peeked into crevices and poked into closets full of animal skins. The brethren of Look and Loo became tired of their constant bothersome looking, not to mention the inopportune time they chose to visit. The cry of "Lookie-Loo go away" was heard throughout the land. There was much gnashing of teeth as Look and Loo despaired of ever finding a home, sweet abode. A wise man stepped forward and made a prophecy.

"You will become a race of Lookie-Loos unless..."
"What must we do?" Loo asked with new hope.
The wise man knowing a good thing when he saw it, threw down his stone mortar and stopped the grinding of corn. "I'm an expert on caves in this mountain. I can help you find a place to dwell happily ever after," he said.
"With lots of closet space?" Look asked. The wise man nodded knowingly.
"With running water?" Loo inquired.
"You betcha. I'll help cause I love a Lookie-Loo!"
And the wise man did find Look and Loo a place to dwell and be happy for the rest of their years or until Look got a transfer. Even then the wise man was able to give them the name of one as wise as the wise man and she found Look and Loo another home, sweet abode in their new land.
