

Urban crisis is LWV topic

"The Urban Crisis" will be the subject of the last West Bloomfield-Farmington League of Women Voters' meeting before the summer break. Marge Rohrer will chair the discussion at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in Farmington Hills Community Library on Twelve Mile.

The community is invited to bring questions and join in the discussion without charge.

A presentation of information from

"Whatever Happened to River City," by the Kettering Foundation, will give a background on the growth and decline of the central city.

Some questions for the future will follow, with a look at the local communities to check on possible future problems.

Ms. Rohrer has been the local representative to the Detroit-Metro LWV Council on Urban Crisis, and has assisted in two conferences this year.

World food issue is topic for AAUW

"Who Will Eat How Much of What?" is the subject to be discussed during the Wednesday meeting of the Farmington Branch American Association of University Women. The group meets at 7:30 p.m. in Farmington Hills Community Library on Twelve Mile.

The meeting is open to all interested persons.

DAR meets

The Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR), Quakertown chapter, meet tomorrow at noon, in the Farmington Hills home of Mrs. Bruce Robinson, 28325 Halstead. The group will celebrate the birthday of the chapter with a tea.

Mrs. Eldon Behr, state regent, will be the guest of honor.

Report when stolen

If a credit card is stolen, notify the company that issued it immediately. Your liability for unauthorized use of the card stops when notification is made. The maximum liability for unauthorized use of any one card is $50.

Guest speaker is Dr. Sylvan Wiltner, assistant dean of College of Agriculture and Natural Resources at U-M, and director of the university's agricultural experimental station.

He has served on the President's steering committee on food and nutrition and has been a consultant to the National Science Foundation and to the United Nations Development Program in Brazil and Israel.

He will talk on how to deal with food, hunger and malnutrition on a global basis; how food policies are made; and what can be done to insure that all people will have enough nutritious food to meet their needs.

Karen Schurgin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Schurgin, 25574 Briarwyke, Farmington Hills, was a finalist in the Solar Energy Poster Contest. She took the blue ribbon for best poster submitted by youngsters in Farmington and Farmington Hills, in competition aimed to bring attention to how solar energy can improve the quality of life. The young artist is a sixth grader in Middlebelt Elementary School.
