

Dorati returns for another season

In his second season as music director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Antal Dorati, will conduct 16 of the subscription concerts. He will be at the podium a total of 12 weeks during the season which runs from Sept. 21 to May 21. Dorati has invited seven conductors to pay a return visit to the Ford Auditorium stage. They are James De Preist, American born and presently music director of L'Orchestre Symphonique de Quebec; Hiroyuki Iwaki, conductor of the Melbourne, Australia, symphony orchestra; Andre Kostelanetz; Max Rudolf, director emeritus of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra; Klaus Tennstedt, director of Hamburg Radio Orchestra; Michael Tilson-Thomas, director of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra; and Aldo Ceccato. Making debut conducting appearances will be Bernard Klee and Michael Gielen. Klee is a German-born conductor who conducts in opera houses and on the concert stage in Europe. Gielen is principal conductor of the Netherlands Opera. Two violinists who also conduct will appear at the podium with the Detroit Symphony Chamber Orchestra. They are Rafael Duran and Pinchas Zukerman. DSO assistant conductor Werner Torkanowicz and conductor-in-residence Paul Freeman also will appear in the regular subscription concert schedule. Principal vocal soloists Richard Hayman will be joined by Arthur Fiedler and Henry Mancini for the "Weekender Pops" series. Andre Segovia, guitarist, will appear in a special recital performance that is part of the chamber orchestra series, and the Joffrey Ballet is scheduled to appear with the symphony in February.

Everyone Calls Him Sir

Loni Shoup (at left) takes the part of the slave girl, and Maureen Latimer takes the part of Naaman's wife in "Everyone Calls Him Sir," staged by the youth choir of First United Methodist Church of Farmington. Two productions are scheduled Sunday, at the 10 a.m. worship service, and again at 5 p.m. The church is located at Grand River and Warner. The play tells the story of Naaman, a fearless leader of the Syrian army, fated to die as a leper.

Rock climbing introduced

Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a five-session class called "Introduction to Rock Climbing" beginning at 7 p.m. June 7. Classes will run for four Wednesdays in Farmington Hills City Hall, at 3155 Eleventh Mile, and conclude with an all-day outing July 8 at Grand Ledge, Mich.

The fee of $39 includes all equipment necessary. The class is open to those over the age of 14 only.

The instructors will teach the beginning basic concepts of safe rock climbing. This includes set up on belay system, rappelling, and use of ropes, harnesses, carabiners.

Instruction also includes all proper precautions and procedures for the novice climber. Registrations are being taken now by calling the sponsoring office, at 474-6115.

Bazaar set

The parishioners of Divine Providence will sponsor a bazaar on the grounds at Nine Mile and Beech, from 10:30 a.m. through the late afternoon Sunday.

The festivities will include games, prizes, sports activities, crafts, contests, ethnic food and almost continuous entertainment. There is no admission charge.

BRODHEAD FARMINGTON HILLS VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS have installed Bruce Allen as commander of the post located on Grand River near Orchard Lake. Senior vice commander is Ira Wing and junior vice commander is Harold Rundquist. During a joint installation ceremony, Joan Simenson was installed as president of the VFW auxiliary. Her vice-presidents are Virginia Cadeau and Fran Bauman.

SWINGING SINGLES meet at 8:30 p.m. June 4 in Roberto's for a cocktail party and dancing to the music of "The Continentals." Roberto's is located at 2485 Coolidge, near Eleven and One-Half Mile.

The singles club is for those over the age of 25. Admission of $3.50 is asked at the door.

PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS, Farmington-Southfield Chapter, meet at 8 p.m. June 7 in Bonnie Brook Club, on Telegraph, south of Eight Mile. All meetings and events planned by the club are open to all parents without partners, only.

CHRISTIAN WOMEN'S CLUB meets at noon June 8 for luncheon with the theme "The Ties That Bind" in Mayflower Meeting House, on Main Street, at Ann Arbor Trail, in Plymouth.

The club is without membership, and meetings planned by the group are open to all church women in all surrounding areas.

A talk called "Spiritual Ties" will be given by Patsy Clairmont. "Song Ties" will be given by Ken Cornwall and Daisy Redmond. "Stylish Ties" comes from LaVonne Knight, who will help guests learn new ways to tie scarves and shawls. Reservations are being taken by Jo Cane, 477-3825.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF RETIRED PERSONS, Farmington Hills Chapter, are now taking reservations for an all day trip to Frankemuth's "Bavarian Festival."

The group will leave by bus at 8:30 a.m. June 12 from Arnold's Drug Store on Twelve Mile and Farmington Road, and return about 5:30 p.m. The fee of $7 does not include lunch. The event is open to all persons over

Canoeing lessons will begin June 7

Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation Department offers a canoeing class which begins at 7 p.m. June 7, and concludes with a canoe trip June 24. Fee is $20, which includes all necessary equipment.

The course is open to all persons 10 and older. The sessions are designed to provide participants with basic canoeing techniques required for safe boating. Registrations are being taken now by the parks and recreation office, 474-6115.
