Flutist wins another musical scholarship

Lisa Johnson, the Harrison High School student who won the Farmington Musicale's Young Artist Award last month, has taken another top prize.

The young flutist won $150, the top award given to student-musicians when Harrison High School held its annual band and orchestra awards banquet and recognition program at the school last week.

Other scholarship awards of $50 each were given to Fran Stark and Marlene Walck, both clarinetists; and Peggy Ann deCooke and Julie Pickett, both flutists; Todd Levin, a percussionist, and Laurie Roller, who plays saxophone.

Miss Johnson will be studying music at the University of Michigan next fall. Entertainment at the banquet came from the Priars, who are members of the University of Michigan Glee Club.

The young musicians at Harrison will be joining their counterparts at the two other high schools in the city-wide band fundraising Tag Days, set for Oct. 13-14.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE FASHION CONSCIOUS:

Haircoloring is as individual as each person is unique. That is the main reason that when you come to me for color it is important that you get the most personalized service I can offer. I will take into consideration many factors. Your hair style, your skin tones, the condition of your hair (color is always a plus for condition), and your lifestyle. You will get the benefits of the finest colors from Europe, coupled with the most recent European applications and techniques. Haircoloring has become an integral part of routine hair care for the fashion conscious woman (and man); whether it be the most natural colors and highlights or a definite cosmetic look of rainbow colors. Complete your individual look - Call me, or come in and talk to me, today.
