

Kayaking class opens

All persons 14 and older are eligible to join a new kayaking class which begins at 7 p.m., June 6, and concludes with a field trip July 8. The basic techniques of handling this type of river craft will be given in 12 hours of classroom and training in North Farmington High School's pool. The field trip will be taken in Hudson Mill Metro Park.

Registrations are being taken now by the Farmington Parks and Recreation Department office, 474-6115. Fee is $39, which includes all necessary equipment.

Fashion news

The Eccentric would like your help in reporting fashion events. Please submit items for the Fashion Calendar at least 10 days in advance to Suburban Life Editor Jeanne Whittaker, the Eccentric, 1225 Bowers, Birmingham, 60112.

Items of interest are fashion shows, informal modeling, special showings and fashion benefits.

All items must include the date of the event, where it is to take place, and a contact telephone number where information may be clarified when necessary.

Mrs. Whittaker is available during normal office hours by calling 644-1100.

'When I was a lad'

Gilbert & Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore" is a hefty operetta for the most adventuresome of companies, but it wasn't too much for Dorothy Zimmer's third grade class at Forest Elementary School. The 27 members of the class performed 14 songs, including "Little Buttercup," during two performances last

Culinary arts begins at OCC

In an effort to serve the ever-growing need for qualified, well-trained chefs throughout the hospitality industry, a new culinary arts program will be offered by Oakland Community College on the Orchard Ridge Campus, during the fall semester of 1978.

The planned program of study offers a two-year associate degree in applied sciences.

The first year of the program emphasizes basic cooking methods and preparation. The second year of study, students perfect their skills with the preparation of meals representative of classical and international cuisines.

Options for study at the end of the two-year period are courses in dietary management, food service management or hotel-motel management.

Enrollment will be limited to 120 students a year. Applications are now being accepted. Inquiries will be taken by calling the school, 476-9400, ext. 507.
