Here's a hot idea to keep you cool.

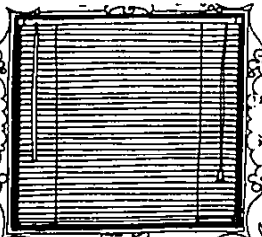

When the summer sun is heating down, you can stay cool—save money and energy, too—with Joanna Western window shades.

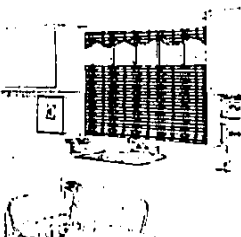

A recent independent study showed that Joanna window shades, properly installed, reduce warm weather heat gain up to 50%. And not only does that keep your home cool. It can save you as much as 21% in air conditioning costs.

So when the heat goes up, pull your window shades down. They're an economical way to keep you cooler. And remember, Saving energy isn't a fad. It's your future.
