Why is the Bride carried over the threshold of her new home on her Wedding Day? To go back to darkest antiquity, we find many different reasons. The Greeks of Plutarch's time thought that the custom originated with the actual capture of brides from neighboring tribes; the Romans, on the other hand, believed that the threshold was a sacred object to their goddess Vesta and that a Bride must not touch the threshold on her Wedding Day. The Chinese often went so far as to have an old woman, relative of the Groom, to carry the Bride across the threshold on her back. And in some areas of India the Groom himself is first carried across the threshold and then lifts his Bride across.

Orin's of course, recommends that your Groom shall carry you across the threshold on your Wedding Day to avoid hurting the feelings of a Roman goddess, or stirring up evil spirits or stepping on the soul of someone's ancestor, or most of all, Orin's urges you to come by and let us help you plan your Wedding from your ring-sets to your Invitations, right down to your Reception Napkins. You will be thrilled at the wide selection of patterns in Silver, China and Crystal at Orin's - and we will show you the many mixes and matches of a perfectly coordinated table-top.

Orin's complete knowledge of proper Wedding Procedures and Orin's wide selection of gifts gathered from the markets of the world, make Orin's your logical Wedding Headquarters - so come on in to Orin's Jewellers soon!

MRS. LARRY EDWARD SMITHSON
(Mary Ellen Runk)

Bride Creates Wedding Ensemble

Mary Ellen Runk designed and created the gown and veil she wore when she became the bride of Larry Edward Smithson in Epiphany Lutheran Church, Plymouth, Saturday, Sept. 13.

The Rev. Frederick Prezioso officiated for the evening ceremony, and the bride's father escorted her to the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil William Runk of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Smithson, also of Plymouth, are parents of the bridegroom.

THE VICTORIAN BRIDAL gown was white satin peau with long sleeves and a front panel of almonce lace decorated with pearls.

The same detailing was carried over to the detachable train.

Woolls Will Make Home In Wisconsin

SUSAN McASKIN

Schofield, Wis., is the home of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Wooll following their Sept. 6 marriage in the First Christian Church of Bedford, Iowa.

Both are systems engineers for IBM Corp.

The bride is the former Bobbie Jean Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Marshall of Bedford, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Wooll of Plymouth are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. John D. Kerr officiated.

THE BRIDE wore white translucent organza with ruffles of satin and lace at the high neckline, empire waist and down the front. Lace also edged her mantilla veil that was mounted on an organza cascade hat. She carried white roses.

Virginia Marshall of Bedford, her sister's only attendant, wore a rose-colored floor-length gown and carried red roses.

Russell Ostrom of Detroit was best man, and ushers were James Hanshaw, of Bedford, the bride's cousin, and Paul Weigle of Livonia, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

THE RECEPTION was held in the church parlor and the couple took a two-week honeymoon trip through the Rocky Mountains.

The new Mrs. Wooll is a business administration graduate of Drake University. Her husband, a Thurston High School graduate, has an electrical engineering degree from Michigan Technological University.
