

A. Gold metallic silk is the hallmark of this suit. Oversized jacket shimmers over the season's newest pants—very narrow at the bottom. Little black T-shirt completes Bill Blass's degage mood. Saks Fifth Avenue.

C. Anne Klein's sporting look includes a topaz tissue faille blouse with deep armholes and a vicuna-color suede wrap skirt and matching wool cable cardigan. Double leather belt and high-heeled low boots, also by Klein. Saks.

E. Leather remains in the forefront for the evening. Chamalee-suede slouchy blazer over a two-piece chamalee colored charmeuse gown with long mushroom pleated skirt. Eleanor Bremner. Jacobson's.

F. Taupe corduroy suit is combined with a brown turtleneck sweater under a taupe and tan print blouse. For the junior figure. Jacobson's Miss J shop.

The ageless woman loves to disco in an elongated torso, softly padded at the hip. Ever moving multi-paneled handkerchief skirt dress in matte Jasco jersey is by Dominic Rompolo. Claire Pearson.

H. A white wool fleece coat with slightly widened shoulders, cut longer is the season's Covert Coat. By the Wacs. Bonwit Teller.

Personality:

The basic ingredient you

What's your wardrobe personality? Would you say it's high chic, country, sophisticated, patrician, feminine, coquettish, or simply youthful?

Chances are you've never really thought about it. And besides, you are probably saying to yourself, "How would I know?" To this end, we have devised a thumbnail sketch of each of the seven wardrobe types.

Individuality in dress is the by-word of fall fashion and is achieved only when you learn to project your own unique personality through the clothes you wear. Your individuality is also conveyed through the fragrance with which you surround yourself.

Find your own personality type among the seven categories listed below. You may have difficulty putting yourself into an exact category, but force yourself. A recognition of your own personal style will mean an uncluttered closet and an overwhelming feeling of self-confidence.

TYPE 1 - THE HIGH CHIC WOMAN
• tall and slender—makeup is an important part of the picture.
• strong sense of drama reflected in clothes and jewels.

• prefers figure-revealing lines.
• can successfully wear drop-dead chic accessories.

• seems mysterious—apt to be a fashion model or actress by inclination.

• extremely well-groomed, often resulting in a "touch-me-not" appearance.

• fragrance may be "Rive Gauche" now but she's waiting for YSL's new perfume "Opium" to hit the American market.

TYPE 2 - THE COUNTRY WOMAN

• at her best in country clothes.
• looks wonderful in tweeds, textures and leathers.

• avoids the dramatic and slinky lines.

• facial features are definite rather than delicate.

• loves life—is healthy, vivacious and full of fun.

• prefers simple lingerie—wears little jewelry.

• wears natural, glowing makeup and a classic hairstyle.

• fragrance "Lauren" by Ralph Lauren or Calvin Klein's cologne.

TYPE 3 - THE CAREER WOMAN

• prefers sophisticated clothes—loves black.

• often striking or interesting looking rather than beautiful.

• loves the best in clothing but prefers that it be simple and uncluttered.

• usually very slender and always very well groomed.

• is smooth, alert, restless, ambitious, has read the latest books.

• seen the latest plays, and heard the latest gossip.

• clever, amusing and intelligent—probably city-dweller—likes night life.

• fragrance often bears the same name as the designer clothing she wears.

TYPE 4 - THE PATRICIAN WOMAN

• handsome and gentlewoman are often used to describe the patrician woman, who may be slender or substantially stately.

• maintains a reserved appearance.

• poised in manner with beautiful skin and coiffed hair.

• avoids fads, prefers pure and elegant fabrics.

• wears heirloom jewelry and always carried a monogrammed handkerchief.

• prefers subtle, subdued colors and off-shades.

• fragrance is Nina Ricci's "L'air du Temps" or "Estee" by Estee Lauder.

TYPE 5 - THE FEMININE WOMAN

• often the round, cuddly type who makes men feel protective.

• chooses softly draped and curved clothing.

• prefers soft, light colors but ignores bows and ruffles.

• warm, charming and softly-spoken.

• does not go in seriously for sports.

• wears little jewelry, light makeup and a fluffy, usually curled, hairstyle.

• favorite perfume may be Estee Lauder's "Youth Dew".

TYPE 6 - THE COQUETTE

• gay, impulsive and very feminine.

• has a dainty frame and likes dainty-fresh clothes.

B. For evening, a tapestry print crepe de chine suit with an easy shirt jacket and slim dirndl skirt. Plus two swinging scarves, one print and one matching the cat's-eye green charmeuse blouse. By Adri for Jerry Silverman. Bonwit Teller.

D. An easy, gathered mood in pla dot combined with surah. Bands of bright roses and exotic paisley prints encircle gown. Waist is wrapped in soft sash. By Jay Anderson for Posh. Walton Pierce.

THAT'S CLASS

It's more than being different. It's being unique. It's the something extra that makes the ordinary, extraordinary.

Class . . . It's Fairlane Town Center with its variety of unique shops. Things to do. Things to see. Like the new fall fashions.

It's everything you want for Fall in one world of its own.

Class . . . It's Fairlane Town Center. With over 160 shops, services, entertainment, restaurants, and even the Movies.

Fairlane Town Center . . . That's Class.

FAIRLANE TOWN CENTER

West of Southfield between Michigan Avenue and Ford Road in Dearborn.
Hours are 10:00 a.m. - 9:30 p.m. Mon. - Sat. Sun. 11:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m.

From Oakland County and the North:
Southfield Expressway to Ford Road (M-153) Exit, remain on Southfield Expressway Service Drive, turn right on Hubbard Drive.