

Stars booked at Music Hall

More than 300 years of international show business stardom come together in Music Hall's new six show series aptly titled "Headliners."

The stars range from Cleo Laine to Count Basie and his orchestra. Each of these attractions plays the Music Hall for a full week.

Kicking off the series on Nov. 14 is the west coast hit "4 Girls 4." This Las Vegas-style production features the talents of recording stars Rosemary Clooney, Helen O'Connell and Detroit's own Margaret Whiting, plus comedienne Rose Marie, star of television's "Hollywood Squares."

Next is the Broadway hit "Side by Side by Sondheim," opening Dec. 12 with Hermione Gingold from the New York cast.

Ray Charles, backed by the Rascells and the Ray Charles Orchestra, follows starting Dec. 26. In addition to his regular eight shows, Ray will star in a special Music Hall New Year's Eve show, details of which will be announced at a later date.

AMERICA'S FIRST lady of song, Ella Fitzgerald, opens on March 13 in a show that also features jazz-great guitarist Joe Pass. Then comes an all-star double-header featuring Count Basie and his orchestra teamed with singing star Sarah Vaughan, starting April 3.

Cleo Laine, who was introduced to Detroiters through her appearances at Music Hall, returns to the Hall after a two-year absence to close the series with an engagement opening on April 24. She will be backed, as usual, by husband John Dankworth and his ensemble.

Each of the Headliners attractions will open on Tuesday and run through Sunday. A Music Hall first is the presentation of two shows on Friday, an earlybird show at 7 p.m. and a night-owl show at 10 p.m. There also will be Saturday matinees at 2 p.m. and early 6:30 p.m. shows Sunday.

Season ticket orders for this all-star series are now available. There are special Saturday matinee prices for senior citizens. Those interested should call 963-6943 for tickets or additional information. Visa, MasterCard or Hudson's credit card numbers may be used in making telephone orders.
