

Sts. Helen and Constantine

"Worry beads" are just one of many artifacts on sale at the annual Greek Festival sponsored by the Sts. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church.

No one is really worried at all, because the people at the church are a well coordinated team when it comes to the annual event.

Dates for this year's warm-hearted Greek festivities will be from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 29 and from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 30. On the final Sunday celebration, closing hour will be at 7 p.m.

The public may enjoy the three days of revelry scheduled for Tel-Twelve Main Street in Southfield. The church is located at 3011 Oakman Boulevard in Detroit, but numbers comes from communities all over Oakland and Wayne counties.

In addition to those traditional worry beads, many interesting Greek imports will be available at the artifacts booth which is being directed by two sisters-in-law active in the church, Maria and Marie Stavropoulos.

Maria Stavropoulos is president of the church, and year.

A new addition to the foods available this year will be the corn on the cob booth which may remind many of the roasted corn for sale on the streets of Athens. George Bills is in charge of the new booth.

IN ADDITION to corn, snackers or serious eaters will be able to choose shish kabob, Greek pastries and bread, Greek salad, Greek fries, wine and beer, mezedakia, soft drinks and pies.

Everyone can experiment a little by ordering a "combination plate" with shish kabob, pilaf, Greek salad, feta cheese and Greek bread.

Lending more flavor to the ethnicity of the occasion will be ethnic dancers and live Greek music sponsored by the Prevas Brothers.

Special films will also be shown which will depict Greek customs and views of various parts of Greece.

The "Hellenic Cuisine cookbook" of St. Constantine's Greek Orthodox Church says the members have been working to plan the festival almost since last year's celebration ended.

Cochairmen Milton Carles and Peter

Frango have enjoyed the cooperation from more than 15 committees which handled the food booths, drinks, artifacts, entertainment, art work, advertising, food and paper supplies, the dancers and even clean-up.

Active on those committees have been: Dan Colovas, Rudy Anastas, Jim Livans, Tom Bozadis, Alex Skylatos, Kay Kakaras, Louie Frango and Helen Reina.

Others are: John Joannides, Steve Vafeas, Nick Karay, Larry Meyers, Steve Corts, Charles Frangos, Betty Colovas, Pat Economou and Jean Joannides.
