A kitchen can be a cooking and entertainment center, all in one.

Kitchen's bright beauty

Like it or not, kitchens are here to stay.
It behooves us then to make the best of them by asserting some positive decorative action. Create a happy place to be when turning out hot meals.

Down with dreary, drab, overtones. On with the bright and the beautiful.

A good case in point is the Sandra and Al Werthmann kitchen, designed by him for bigger and better indoor barbecues and more exciting gourmet dishes.

He's the cook—but Sandra Werthmann is the one who has indelibly marked the area with her flair for the dramatic.

This kitchen is the last word in visual symmetry. It is a cooking-eating-entertainment center all in one. Light from a 20-foot skylight and a panoramic view of Island Lake serve and enhance the spacious, flowing spirit contained here.

White on white, copper, brass and terra cotta in the Mexican flooring provide varying textures and surfaces.
Mirrors everywhere, even on cupboards, make for glossy reflections.

A circular bar with its brass rail invites guests to remain here instead of venturing on to a more formal Venetian dining room.

Forget that the adjacent server was once a Chinese altar—it is more fun watching shadows from mirror gloss at the kitchen bar.

Perhaps it is this kitchen's position that attracts. It is situated on a high level and is wide open. All rooms can be reached from it.

Laquered white barn siding and reams of glass fortify the lofty, air-born feeling. Whatever the charm, family and guests alike have succumbed to it.

You don't sew? So what!

You don't have to sew to decorate with our fabrics.

You just have to know what you like. And then choose it from an overwhelming selection of drapery, slipcover & upholstery fabric seconds.

All at about half the first price!

We'll tell you just how much yardage you'll need. And we can even refer a qualified craftsman to do the job. Come see!
