

Mercy gears up for Catholic League playoffs

By TOM BAER

Farmington Our Lady of Mercy, which is involved in the Catholic League girls' basketball playoffs this week, closed out its regular season with a 56-40 victory over Redford Township Bishop Borgess last Tuesday.

Pat Schneider, a 5-3 junior, paced

Mercy with 15 points, and Gretchen Larges had 14. Mercy led, 36-21, at halftime. The win lifted coach Larry Saker's Mercy team to 12-3 overall.

In another game last Thursday, Farmington Harrison whipped Walled Lake Western, 52-36, in the Western League. Harrison is 4-4 in the league and 8-7 overall.

Lana Widman, a 5-4 senior forward, paced the winners with 17 points, and teammate Kathy Corbett had 16 points and 11 rebounds. Cathy Babson scored 12 points for Western, which trailed, 23-16, at halftime.

Earlier last week, Harrison beat city-rival Farmington High, 38-34. Widman and Corbett each scored 13 points for Harrison, and teammate Linda Tremonti pulled down 12 rebounds. Betsy VanDeusen scored nine points for Farmington.

Watford Township, with Terry Smith scoring 19 points, defeated Farmington, 54-46, last Thursday in an inter Lakes League game on the Skipper's court. Farmington is 8-9 overall and 4-4 in the league with the loss. Farmington, which trailed by only two points (28-26) at halftime, got eight points each from VanDeusen, Carm Noble, Kim Patton, Debbie Gibb and Kay Deeg.

Birmingham Seaholm handed North Farmington its 16th-straight loss this season by a 39-29 score last Tuesday.

Gary McGehee scored 18 points for Seaholm, and Janice Higuera had 12 for North Farmington.

On Tuesday, Farmington hosts Livonia Stevenson. Harrison entertains Livonia Churchill, and North Farmington travels to Westland John Glenn. All games start at 7:30 p.m.

Basketball program revived

Tim Domke is a happy man these days, enthusiastic and ready to start an ambitious 38-game basketball schedule at St. Mary's College in Orchard Lake.

A former cage mentor at West Bloomfield and Detroit Country Day, Domke left a big-time atmosphere at the University of Detroit to revive a basketball program not seen in the last 35 years. "I love it here," proclaimed Domke. "I approached the school about starting up a program and haven't regretted a minute since I took over July 1."

Although his squad is green, with a majority of freshmen, Domke is optimistic. He said his club has excellent potential.

"We lack experience, of course," says Domke, "but we have eight solid players. If we escape serious injuries, we can break even or better."

The Eagles play 18 games before a two-week Christmas break, including five games in six days.

This is a perfect place to build a small college team, said the Orchard Lake coach, "and we're going to put two seasons into one. That's why I scheduled a lot of games and scrimmages."

Domke has recruited some solid players in his initial season.

The lone sophomore in the starting lineup will be Mike Baker, a 6-7 center from Detroit Northwestern and Central Arizona Junior College.

Baker is a health nut and outstanding leader. The sophomore can also dunk with the best.

Another outstanding prospect is 6-6 Michael Knight, a freshman forward from New Boston Huron, Knight weighs a compact 215 pounds and adds muscle up front besides a sound shooting touch.

Domke also landed 6-3 guard Scott Gidden from Utica Ford, a second-team all-state choice a year ago.

"We're asking Scott to be our point guard and run the offense," Domke said. "We're giving him a new role."

Freshman Aaron Hardaway also joins the Eagles out of Detroit Southeastern, where he averaged 18 points per game last year.

"Aaron is probably our most complete ballplayer and is an A-B student also," said Domke.

Hardaway is 6-4 and adds height to the guard position.

Rounding out the starting five is 6-4 wing man Craig Blackwell, a Class C all-star from Detroit St. Andrews, who also played under St. Mary's Athletic Director Bob Shoemaker.

The most pleasant happening in pre-season thus far has been the play of 6-1 guard Tim Higgins from Walled Lake Central.

"Tim is on the second unit right now but badly enough has been our leading scorer in our scrimmages," Domke said.

"Tim is an intelligent guy who can score from the outside. He needs work on his defense but will come off the bench and contribute."

Higgins is equally impressed with the set-up at St. Mary's and says college ball has made him a better player.

"I have a challenge every day out here and that helps my game," said Higgins.

Rounding out the unit is 6-4 forward guard Bob Calloway from Woodhaven; 5-10 forward Mark Kucharek from Detroit DeLaSalle; and 5-8 guard John Ochmanski from Detroit St. Hedwig.

"I work on the low principle and try to build upon it even in the off-season," says Domke. "I'm concerned with people and look for kids with character," he added.
