

John Cross joining law school faculty

John E. Cross of Farmington Hills has been appointed to a fulltime faculty position of associate professor at Thomas Cooley Law School, Lansing.

"He presently is supervising assistant corporation counsel for the City of Detroit."

"We are extremely fortunate to attract Cross," said Cooley Dean Robert Krinock. "His reputation, experience and expertise in municipal law litigation are widely recognized."

He will teach municipal corporations and professional responsibility beginning in January.

He co-authored a compilation of Michigan's Criminal Code, entitled "The Police Officer and the Law," and has lectured before the annual state bar conference, the annual conference of the Michigan Municipal League and a public corporation law seminar.

He earned his juris doctor degree from the University of Detroit Law School in 1965. He has previously been a law instructor at the Detroit Police Academy, the Criminal Justice Institute and Schoolcraft College.

Prior to joining the city's law department, he was a member of the Detroit Police Department for 13 years, serving as a police officer, detective and sergeant during that period.

A Christmas Pie

Lauren Yessayan, who plays Mother Best, one of the leading roles in the Farmington Community Center Children's Theatre production of "A Christmas Pie," also is dance and art coordinator for the second year. The musical, written, directed and produced by Taffy Jones, will be presented Saturday, Dec. 9, at The Barn, First Presbyterian Church, Farmington Road and Eleven Mile. Fifty young actors, age 4 to 14, are taking part and performing all stage management, make-up, choreography and art work. Two performances will be at 1:30 and 3 p.m. Tickets are $1 at the door. Some of the actors will be on Channel 7 at 8 a.m. Dec. 24 as guests of Daedal Doors. (Staff Photo by Harry Mauthe)
