CHIROPRACTORS SEEK RESEARCH VOLUNTEERS

The International Pain Control Institute is presently engaged in what is the most extensive research program undertaken by the chiropractic profession. This research is devoted to determining the relationship between health problems and spinal misalignments and utilizes a screening process called Contour Analysis.

Volunteers are being sought for screening. Contour Analysis enables taking a three dimensional picture of the spine (contour analysis) of the topography of the surface of the spine to detect spinal stress distortions. This activity is not to be correlated with leg deficiency, patient symptoms, and levels of spinal curvature, muscle balance, muscle imbalances, muscle spasms, muscle imbalance, spinal distortions, and scoliosis.

This is a public service program for participating volunteers. The doctors are contributing their time, service, and facilities for the program.

Anyone wishing to be a volunteer may telephone participating doctors directly for information or an appointment.
