Fun way to keep fit

years old are offered morning or afternoon sessions.

Mrs. Birsa was top saleswoman for Century 21's Farmington branch in November. Though "dancers are disciplined people and used to hard work," she said, "I have never worked that hard before."

"Six hours on Mondays will be enough teaching for the winter."

She will still play tennis twice a week, however, and still keep busy.

"I get that from my mother. She always felt that busy people were happy people and I'm passing that philosophy onto my daughters," she said.

Her three daughters are making their own marks in gymnastics.

Seventeen-year-old Andrea set a school record for gymnastics at Harrison High School.

Fourteen-year-old Kris, a student at East Junior High, and 11-year-old Jill, a student at Middle Belt Elementary School, are both members of the YMCA's Gym J.

All classes at Ten Mile Community School, 32789 Ten Mile, begin the week of Jan. 15. Registrations are taken by phone, or mail, or in person through Jan. 12. The school's number is 474-5233.
