'Surprising' Falcons win Schoolcraft mat title

By C.J. REAK

"It was surprising, I'm telling you. It was realily something."

That reaction of Farmington wresting coach bon Detters put the School-craft Invitational tournament into proper perspective, as Farmington won the 28-team event in the closest finish ever last weekend. And the Falcons did it on the last event of the tourney. When the mast were cleared and the final results were tallied, Farmington that 141½ points to 139½ for runner-up Fenton. In all, six teams finished within additional to 139½ for runner-up Fenton. In all, six teams finished within match of the tournament, put Scott. Hazen of Farmington against Chuck Gamon of Vigaliant. Hazen, where of the National Junior AAU heavyweight crown last summer, was put to the test by Gannon, but came away with a 9-7 victory and a tournament championship for Farmington, its first ever at Schoolcraft.

"We wrestled real good in the consolitations," Detters said. "And that really helped us' teamwise. Depth really counts in tournaments of this size. Only two schools had three wrestlers going into the finals — Thurston and Ypsilant Sour other wrestlers really helped us. It was just the opposite of the Oakhad County tournament, and County meet earlier this eason."

Southfield-Lathrup, expected to be one of the title contenders, met with all storts of problems and finished in tenth place. And, with everything considered, Lathrup coach Ray Toobey figured his matnen were lucky to finish that high in the tourney.

"We just didn't do too well," Toobey said. "Gur 98-pounder, Steve Kremer, didn't make weight, so he couldn't wrestle. ing the fourth quarter, Farmington Harrison downed Redford Thurston, 64-57, Tuesday in a non-conference baskethall game.

The Eagles had led host Harrison going into the final eight minutes, 65-44.

"We just couldn't hold it logether," said Thurston coach Bill Croteau. "We had a couple of key turnovers and forced it a bit. We lost our polse tonight.

"I don't think we took it to them in the fourth cuarter, and their kids hustled," Croteau added.

Burgess and Dave Turnquist each finished with 17 points for the Hawks, but Soott Hendries, a forward, led all shooters with 23.

Tim Fazzini and Carey Dowdy each notched 14 points for Thurston, Mike Fitzsimmons contributed 12 and Willie Gibson chipped in with 11.

Croteau said that Harrison had a better shooting percentage than his crew (17-42), which probably was the difference in the final score.

Harrison's eason record increased to 2-6 with the victory, while Thurston's Slipped to 14-1. The loss was the third in a row for the Eagles.

The Hawks won the 47 preliminary, 52-41.

Harrison hosts Waterford Mott Friday, while Thurston travels to Livonia Franklin.
