

Comedy of manners

"The Rivals," a comedy of manners, continues at Studio Theatre Varner Hall on the Oakland University campus near Rochester. Members of the cast include (top) Kim Workman of Rochester playing Lydia Languish, Dawn-Marie Webber of Rochester as Lucy and Christopher Howe of Rochester as Captain Absolute. The student production continues tonight through Thursday. For times and ticket information, call 377-2000.

Chapin giving concert

Following a two-year absence from any Ann Arbor stage, Harry Chapin will return with his music and prose to Hill Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 8.

Chapin, who has raised more than $1 million for various charities through hundreds of benefit concerts, has earned two gold albums, a gold single, an Oscar nomination, two Grammy nominations, and a 1976 Rocky Award in recognition of his public service activities.

Along with his brothers, Chapin appeared on the East Coast folk-rock scene in the mid 1960s. The band dissolved when Chapin went into filmmaking. He subsequently worked on 300 films in the next five years.

In 1970, Tom and Steve Chapin again took to the stage with another band and Harry started writing much of their material. His style of story-song developed from the characters he met in his filmmaking days.

In 1972, Chapin's debut album, "Heads and Tails," was released on Elektra—and the song "Taxi" became a hit.

Tickets for the concert are on sale at the Michigan Union Box Office from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Mondays-Fridays.

For ticket information, call the Michigan Union Box Office at 763-2071.

Singing and dancing

Susan Schilling of Rochester (left), Kerry Milliron of Bloomfield Hills and Lisa Craig of Royal Oak are featured singers and dancers in "Oklahoma!" by Rodgers and Hammerstein. The show is playing a limited engagement Friday, Jan. 26, and Saturday, Jan. 27, at Will-O-Way Repertory Theatre, 775 W. Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Township, before touring to the Alger Theatre in Detroit. Joanne Peters, flutist, presently on the faculty of Roeper City and Country School, has been engaged as musical director for Will-O-Way's series of five musicals being mounted for touring under the direction of Celia Merrill Turner. Leah Betts of Westland is choreographer and Therese Muller of Bloomfield Hills leading dancer for the series. For reservations, call 644-4418.
