GREEN

Dear Lorene Green,

This is my second attempt at writing to you. I am most anxious to have my handwriting analyzed.

I have spent most of my life thinking I knew who I was, only to find out I don't know me at all.

It's very important to me, to know what my handwriting reveals. I will continue to watch your column with interest. Thank you.

M.C.W., Troy

Dear M.C.W.,

I am sorry that you had to write a second time to have your handwriting selected for analysis. Unfortunately, time and space do not permit me to use all of the letters I receive.

From the margins of your letter I can see that you are attempting to make some significant changes in your life. A very wide left margin with a narrow right margin tells me you are leaving some of the past and moving out into the future.

I see this as a very good sign. Too long you have been bound by events of your early life that you did not like.

I do not know where the male authority figure was in your youth, but if he was in the parental home he had almost no influence on you (personal pronoun I). Also, resentment that you harbor from that period of your life is shown by your many inflexible strokes that begin below the line on the first letters of many words.

Although you are probably quite comfortable in familiar surroundings with people who have accepted you for the nice person you are, your self-consciousness becomes more apparent in unfamiliar situations or among new social groups (self-consciousness is shown when the final humps on m's and n's are higher than the preceding ones).

Your little round circle i dots suggest your individualist nature. You are probably attracted to clothing styles or fads that help you appear more distinctive.

There are some signs of frustration in your writing. However, the light pressure of your writing tells me you are resilient and can bounce back from experiences more easily than a heavy pressured writer.

The lines of your handwriting tend to slope downward as you write suggesting that you may be tired or a little down at this time.

The beginning of a new year is an excellent time to take stock of one's personality and of the old resentments that are keeping us from becoming the fulfilled person we would like to be.

You have a great deal to offer. You are friendly and caring (right slant and word endings that reach out). Pride and dignity are shown by the height and retracing of your t stems. You are also neat and quite well organized (good spacing). Best wishes in the search for your identity.

GRAPHOLOGY TIP—The more elaborate the capital letter the more the writer wishes to be noticed.

If you have a question about your personality write to Mrs. Lorene C. Green, in care of this newspaper. Please write on a full sheet of white paper using the first person singular.

WNIC disc jockey Alan Almond invites all comers to join him in Skate '79, a benefit skate-a-thon for the American Diabetes Association, in Bonaventure Roller Rink. Skaters will roll from noon to 5:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 28, in the fight against diabetes.

Skaters to fight diabetes

Alan Almond, evening DJ at WNIC-FM, has been named chairman of Skate '79, a benefit skate-a-thon for the American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate.

Skate '79 will be in full swing at eight participating roller rinks on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 27-28.

In this area, skaters will roll from noon to 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, in Bonaventure Roller Rink, 24505 Halstead, in Farmington Hills, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, in Riverside Arena, 36635

Plymouth in Livonia.

Skate '79 works like other "a-thons," with sponsors pledging money for each mile skated. Interested skaters must obtain an entry form, which is available at the participating rinks, or by calling the sponsors at 342-9333.

Following the format of past skate-a-thons, there are prizes ready to be given to the skaters turning in the most money at each rink.

"Last year's 1,362 skaters collected $42,600," Almond said, "and we hope to raise more than that this year." Almond, along with other local celebrities, will make appearances at each of the rinks.

All proceeds raised will be used to support the association's programs in research; in a medically supervised summer camp for diabetic children; for educational programs to educate the public about the seriousness of diabetes, and for free diabetes detection testing.
