Chef MacKinnon takes center's center stage

Tom MacKinnon, executive chef at Clarkston Cafe, brings a luncheon and demonstration of hors d'oeuvres to Farmington Community Center's Entertaining With a Flair series. MacKinnon's last appearance at the center, a demonstration of European cuisine, was a sold-out affair. (Photo by Cyd Abatt)

Chef Thomas MacKinnon enters the third culinary luncheon of the Farmington Community Center's Entertaining With a Flair series beginning at 1 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 21.

The young culinary artist calls his segment "European Cuisine Made Easy," that will be suitable for the hostess of all levels of expertise.

He will zero in on party foods, and promises to share "a wealth of tips to prepare beautiful and delicious fare the next time you have guests."

MacKinnon has been putting together recipes and preparing food since the age of 6 when his sister got a Betty Crocker baking kit for Christmas.

He studied his art at Schoolcraft College, then apprenticed in France and Belgium, and now holds court over the kitchens in Clarkston Cafe.

He will serve a luncheon that features both hot and cold hors d'oeuvres that can be served from appetizer to dessert.

His demonstration will center in on the techniques of sauce preparation, an intricate part of the luncheon.

He labels his hors d'oeuvres "simple enough for the beginning cook and interesting enough for the gourmet to tackle."

Chef MacKinnon adds, "They have a decidedly European flair." FOLLOWING tradition of the series, all luncheon guests will take home copies of the recipes. But a bonus will be the drawing of two lucky tickets for dinner for two at Clarkston Cafe, at 18 S. Main St., Clarkston.

Early reservations are suggested. The two luncheons that preceded MacKinnon's appearance were both sold out.

Reservations are $5 each, made by calling the center at 477-9484.

Kay Dendler comes to the center's series on Feb. 28 to tell how to make finger foods and tea sandwiches, whether you are preparing for an afternoon bridge or a wedding.

"Italian Brunch" is scheduled for March 14, when Geri Rinschler will show some tricks, Italian style, with shrimp scampi and torta di ricotta.

Village has winter tours

Guided tours, hot cider, a sleigh or wagon shuttle ride and entertainment by a village minstrel are all part of the winter weekends through March 18 at Greenfield Village. There is no additional charge for these attractions beyond regular village admission.

The village is open all winter, but the special added features are limited to weekends only. Village tickets are sold from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. during the winter weekends.

Visitors may take a free, 10-minute sleigh shuttle back to the gatehouse or they can postpone the sleigh shuttle until after they visit the crafts area.

Besides the free sleigh shuttle, a 45-minute sleigh tour, costing $2.25 per person in addition to general admission, is available. Haywagons are substituted when there is no snow.

Village admission is $3.75 for adults and $1.75 for children ages 6 through 12. Children under 6 are admitted free.
