Morley Winograd starts his fourth two-year term as Democratic state chairman this week with big Demo-ractia majorities in the legislature.
State convention delegates Sunday reelected the Troy resident and then gave him the go-ahead to "establish a task force to design a system of party accountability for elections at all levels.

"This task force should consider such easures as endorsement, censure and massures as endorsement, censure and publicity."

And Winograd sought reelection promising to "restructure our policy committee to include a lobbying function as well as issue development."

THE TWIN votes symbolized at once the strength and weakness of Michigan Democrats.
