

Reed Marionettes At C'ville Nov. 16

Reed Marionettes, a nationally known professional company from Wales, Wis., will return to Clarenceville High School with a production of "Pinocchio." Last year the Reeds -- Robin and his wife, Edith -- were here with their version of "The Wizard of Oz."

"Pinocchio" will be presented Sunday, Nov. 16, at both 1 and 3 p.m. in the Louis E. Schmidt Auditorium in the high school at 20155 Middle Belt Road, Livonia.

Sponsor is Clarenceville's Auditorium Planning Committee. Tickets are 50 cents each.

The puppet show features 21 hand-carved characters; loads of artistic, imaginative scenery and a wonderful of magical lighting and special effects.

THE REEDS TOOK a year to produce the first version of "Pinocchio." Since then all of the puppets, except Pinocchio himself, have been replaced due to wear as well as improvement in the Reeds' standards. They have performed "Pinocchio" more than 500 times.

The tale of "Pinocchio" is particularly rich in the motivated magic Robin Reed advocates, and his production takes full advantage of it. For example, the puppet starts to tell a lie, and by means of some clever string pulling, his nose becomes longer and longer.

Another effect -- a real achievement in the art of puppetry -- occurs in the first scene as old Geppetto takes his mallet and chisel and decides to carve a puppet. Real chips fly and a block of wood gradually takes the shape of head, shoulders, body and finally Pinocchio.

THE REED COMPANY has been in business for 17 years. What started as a family operation with Reed, his parents and brother was taken over 10 years ago by Robin and his wife.

There is little difference from the point of view of the audience, but since the couple has updated the puppet business with automation, there now are only two persons easily doing the work of four.
