CETA positions open for OCC security aides

Oakland Community College's recently reorganized campus security department includes a new job position: campus security aide.

The college has received a CETA (Comprehensive Education and Training Act) grant to fund three full-time campus security aide positions on each campus. Persons interested in applying for these positions should contact a local CETA office or the Michigan Employment Security Commission to be certified for eligibility.

Supervised by a public safety officer, the campus security aide performs non-hazardous public safety duties such as directing traffic in parking lots, providing basic first aid, giving instructions to students and visitors, preparing reports of crime and hazardous areas, and acting as observers for public safety.

To qualify for these positions, individuals must meet CETA criteria, be able to pass a security check, and be in good physical condition.
