

Mammography

X-ray technician Julie Cyr of the Breast Cancer Detection Center of Oakland County Division of Health, prepares Doris Schuchter of Troy for a mammography during the latter's visit to the center at 27725 Greenfield, Southfield. The charge for the visit, which includes obtaining height, weight and blood pressure statistics and a breast examination, is $25. It is usually covered by insurance. The center can be reached at 424-7100.

St. Michael will offer Genesis 2

A multi-media program in human and spiritual development will be offered beginning Oct. 1 in the adult education committee of St. Michael's Catholic Church of Southfield.

The free program, open to all over 18, is designed by Trappist monk, Vincent Dwyer, who developed it for the spiritual aid of priests and nuns. Titled Genesis 2, it consists of six two-hour sessions to be held at the church, 25500 Code.

An introductory film featuring Dwyer outlining his program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 1 at St. Michael's. Further information is available from Pat Stock, 526-7790.

Where does inflation hit?

I just spent an evening in an agonized discussion of salary raises. Almost all of the difficulty had to do with the impact of inflation.

Then my wife came home reporting the frustrations and problems caused by the public school contract negotiations for teachers. Again we are dealing with inflation.

We see three-year contracts set with the anticipation that the same trend of inflation will continue. What is such a trend costing us in spiritual and moral terms?

There are the individual dislocations caused by the resulting unemployment. There are the hardships and the anxieties caused for those on fixed incomes.

I ALSO RAISE the question of how well our educational and religious institutions will survive during such a period.

Will people re-examine their priorities and voluntarily support those institutions which have been a foundation of our society?

Schools and churches are funded to a great extent by voluntary commitments. Somewhere during this inflationary time "cost of living" may need to include shifting our resources to institutions which provide the ground for human and spiritual freedom and development.

We find our society able to absorb immense increases in medical costs. Congress cuts several billions of dollars out of human service budgets and gives a like amount in "inflation cost" increases to the military budget.

The concept of cost of living somehow must include the concept of maintaining essential human and morally constructive services.

VALUES NEED to change. Will we give the economic power to the American Medical Association, the industrial complex and the great corporations and unions?

We as individuals can take charge of our own priorities. We can decide that our churches and our schools need increases to keep pace. We can act in ways to pressure other institutions to control their increases.

We need to search our values and change our lifestyles if we are to preserve what is best in our lives. We can work to support a millage vote and give up a weekend vacation trip.

We can decide that our religious institutions will get our increased support and let other people know of our decision. We can choose to support and maintain those things which are most important to our lives, even in the face of "cost of living."

Fr. Peyton plans visit

The Rev. Patrick Peyton, celebrated throughout the world for his rosary and family prayer crusades, will make a three-day visit to the Detroit area, Friday through Sunday, Sept. 28-30.

The visit will mark the 50th year of his international rosary crusade and the 10th to this area. He came first to see a Grosse Pointe youth theater production of the Miracle of Fatima and has returned year after year to encourage a youth crusade for family prayer which now extends to thousands of adults in the greater Detroit area.

Two special events will feature the Rev. Peyton this time. He will be honored at a 10th anniversary dinner at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 28, at the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. Proceeds from the $15-plate dinner will benefit the Rev. Peyton's work. Reservations chairwoman is Anne Gnanter, 527-4968.

His Sunday schedule includes a 3 p.m. living rosary and 4 p.m. family mass at St. Paul Catholic Church, 157 Lakeshore, Grosse Pointe Farms. Msgr. Francis Canfield will celebrate the mass and the Rev. Peyton will be the speaker. More than 50 Knights of Columbus will form a guard-of-honor for the statue of Our Lady of the Family Rosary. A reception later in the church's parish house will give those attending the opportunity to meet the priest.

Both the dinner and family mass are open to persons of all faiths. All are invited to meet the man whose slogan, "the family that prays together, stays together," is known across the world.

Sally Reynolds of Grosse Pointe is head of the Rev. Peyton program. She can be reached at 886-0219 or 885-6219.
