Platform tennis exhibit planned

Elaying outdoor racquet sports no longer has to be limited to good weather.

At Waterford Oaks County Park's new tennis complex, platform tennis can be played year-round. Platform tennis ins' exactly like regular tennis. It's played on a shorter court and the ball isn't as they as a regular tennis hall. Players use paddles instead of tennis racquets and the ball can be played file some played f

A public initiation of the Waferford Oaks com-plex will take place at 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 14. Area players will be on hand to domonstrate the game, explain its rules and provide instruction for interested people. Anyone is invited to attend, play-ers as well as those not familiar with the game.

Waterford Oaks' lighted platform tennis courts are fenced and raised several feet above the ground. The surface is made of thick, perforated plastic, which enables snow to fall through.

In addition to the four platform tennis courts, the new complex also features eight asphalt tennis courts, 10 horsehoe and 10 shiefleboard courts. The complex is accessible through the entrance to the wave-action swimming pool on Scoti Lake Rosd near Pontiac Por additional information, call
