

'Feedback' looks at music world

Antal Dorati, Detroit Symphony Orchestra music director, appears on "Feedback."

Alumnae plans theater party

Clipped Wings United Airlines Stewardess Alumnae is sponsoring a benefit theater party on Sunday, Oct. 21, at St. Dunstan's Playhouse in Bloomfield Hills. The play will be "40 Carats."

There will be a reception at 6 p.m. and the performance will begin at 7:30.

Clipped Wings supports the mentally retarded. For tickets call 335-4658.

Antal Dorati, the internationally renowned music director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will be the guest on the premiere of "Feedback," Monday, Oct. 15, at 7 p.m. on Channel 55.

WJR's veteran television and radio personality Bob Hynes will be the guest host during the premiere week of this new, live, Channel 55 phone-in discussion program, shown weekdays at 7 p.m. Detroit Free Press Music Critic John Guinn will join Hynes and Dorati for this opening edition.

Dorati is preparing to take the Detroit Symphony on the first European tour in its 65-year history. The tour, which lists eight countries and 23 cities, begins Oct. 28.

Dorati, born in Budapest in 1906, is the ninth music director of the Detroit Symphony. During his 55-year career, he has conducted in the United States, Europe, Latin America, Australia, and Israel and became a familiar face to TV viewers nationwide during the airing of "A Beethoven Festival," produced for public television by Channel 56.

IN ADDITION to Dorati, a wide range of guests and issues will be featured during this premiere week on "Feedback." The subjects will include the "Wayne County Reorganization," Tuesday, Oct. 16, with Lt. Gov. James Brickey; William Cahalan, Wayne County prosecutor; and Richard Manning, chairman of Wayne County board of Commissioners.

On Thursday, Oct. 18, "Rape: The Legal Process," will be discussed with guest Dominic Carroval, chief assistant prosecutor for Wayne County, and Althea Grant, director of the Rape Counseling Center in Detroit.
