

Folksinger Gail Smith

Versatile entertainer Gail Smith plays guitar, violin, mandolin, dulcimer and harmonica. She has played at numerous nightclubs in the tri-county area, as well as at fairs and trailer parks and at many benefit concerts and events throughout southeastern Michigan. Her work with Common Ground in Birmingham has included performing at Art-in-the-Park and at the Cripple Creek Sandwich Theater. A Pontiac resident, Ms. Smith attended Oakland University where she studied social sciences. She started playing violin at the age of 9 and eventually added more instruments to her act. Most recently, Ms. Smith was featured on a CBS television show in Tampa, Fla. (Photo by Pat Bordman)

Ethnic luncheon combines with Meadow Brook shows

The Community House in Birmingham is inviting theater lovers/gourmands to join its group for the season at Meadow Brook Theatre. Ethnic menus are planned for pre-play luncheons, seats have been reserved for the shows.

First on the schedule is "The School for Scandal," Richard Brinsley Sheridan's comedy masterpiece. The group will attend the Wednesday, Oct. 31 performance.

Staged by Terence Kilburn, "The School for Scandal" features set design by Peter-William Hicks, 18th century costuming by Mary Lynn Bonnell and lighting by Benjamin F. Levenberg.

Luncheon will be served at The Community House with a French menu being highlighted. Following luncheon, the group will board a chartered bus to Meadow Brook Theatre and the opening play of the season.

THE ENTERTAINMENT package is priced at $21 per person, including luncheon, theater tickets and round-trip transportation from The Community House. Season tickets, covering all eight plays at Meadow Brook Theatre, plus eight luncheons and transportation are priced at $144.

Other plays scheduled for the 1979-80 season and corresponding luncheon include:

"Of Mice and Men," a powerful conflict by John Steinbeck on Wednesday, Nov. 28 (Italian luncheon);

Further information on single and season tickets can be obtained by calling The Community House, 544-5832. The Community House is located at Bates and Towsend.
