

Art show travels to Flint

German expressionist art, featuring masterworks by 23 German artists who worked early in the century, is on exhibit at the Flint Institute of Arts through Dec. 9.

Circulated by the Detroit Institute of Arts through its "Show-On-The-Road" program, the exhibition was organized by the Kalamazoo Institute of Arts and gathered from private and museum collections in the western Michigan area.

The German Expressionist movement reflects the unrest and disillusionment of the early decades of 20th century Europe. The exhibition explores a variety of emotions and subjects.

Woodcuts dominate the exhibition, however, paintings, drawings and sculpture are also included. Among the artists represented are Barlach, Beckman, Heckel, Kandinsky, Muller and others.

Viewing hours for the 66-piece show are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday; 1-5 p.m. Sunday; and 7-9 p.m. Tuesday. Admission is free. For information call 234-1695.

Players stage Simon comedy

"Who's upset? I'm not upset," says Ralph Rosati. Rosati takes the starring role in the Farmington Players production of "The Prisoner of Second Avenue." His skeptical leading lady in the Neil Simon comedy is Judie Tibbitts. Opening night is Friday, Nov. 2 for the play that runs for three weekends in the Players Barn, 32332 12 Mile Rd. Tickets are available by calling the box office, 477-1068.

What makes Park LaSalle a good investment is value. The value of Park LaSalle is its location, its architecture, the amenities, the construction and design. Its environment of privacy, completely peaceful and secluded, yet convenient to all services. Park LaSalle is designed for value and a good investment for you.

Park LaSalle is conceived for people who require the good life, for people who require space, comfort, convenience; for people who require the living of the 80's.

While all owners of Park LaSalle will agree on its particular basics: elegance, prestige, quality, the environment, the superb location and respect for privacy... we are all individuals with individual pursuits. Park LaSalle is for the individual. Tennis courts, an outdoor swimming pool, shuffleboard, jogging track, 9-hole putting green, a fully equipped exercise room, relaxing saunas, a hobby room, meeting and party rooms to gather with your friends, a fully landscaped site with pathways leading to contemplative garden retreats and privacy, if that is what you desire. Shopping and every other convenience are within minutes of your home... yet away.

What we are developing at Park LaSalle is a place that leaves time and room to live life to its fullest. A new height of elegance that will become one of Southfield's most desired addresses.

One, two and three bedroom suites are available to suit individual standards of comfort and convenience. These are indeed versatile, spacious living areas with features to appeal to individual decorating inclinations and living requirements. Your personal choice of plan and decorating add the finishing touch.

As you enter Park LaSalle, you'll discover that security here is also of the utmost importance. A full time doorman insures that no one is admitted unannounced or unregistered, valets valet parking, our cars are available in a car is protected covered gully. It will be parked for gasoline and auto wash right on site. These are supplemented by an extensive electronic security system and a 24 hour individual answering service.
