

Students learn Polish at Madonna

Students in the Polish classes at Madonna College in Livonia come from all walks of life.

For a few hours each week, police officers, social workers, nurses, among others, who find it rewarding to master another language, converse only in Polish, forgetting about the English language. Some take the class for enjoyment while others attribute it as an asset to their career.

As the director of the Madonna Foreign Language Department, Sr. Hugoline Kunkel teaches French and Spanish in addition to Polish.

"The study of Polish, like other foreign languages, furnishes the key to thinking patterns, culture, and social institutions of a particular nation," said Sr. Hugoline.

In addition, students receive insight into the nature of the language and the human mind.

"Today people are studying Polish and other languages to find out more about their heritage. They want to read documents and understand the history behind it all."

THE FOREIGN language courses at Madonna are designed to teach students four language skills: listening, speaking, reading and writing, and to identify social, economic, political, and geographic aspects about the culture they are studying.

The Elementary Polish class for the fall term is scheduled for 7-9 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays. Intermediate Polish, 7-10 p.m. Thursdays.

"Although the class meets as a group, each student progresses at his own level," she said. "At least five hours a week are required in the lab, strengthening skills from audio-tapes of words and phrases in the target language."

The sister, a native of Pomerania, Poland, moved with her family to Jackson when she was 3 years old.

"Speaking a foreign language is not easy," she said. "When I was growing up in Jackson, my parents spoke very little Polish because they were concentrating on learning the English language. I learned most of the Polish language in high school and college.

SR. HUGOLINE said mastering a second language takes a great deal of time, concentration and willingness to learn. "One has to practically memorize the words," she added, "but it is very rewarding."

This educator received her bachelor's degree from the Catholic University of America majoring in French; minoring in English. A master's degree in French was awarded to her from the University of Notre Dame, and later she earned her doctorate, again, from the Catholic University of America.

Prior to 1951, when Sr. Hugoline first came to Madonna, she taught foreign language and English at several Catholic high schools. She also was principal of St. Casimir High School.

Persons may register for any of the foreign language courses prior to Sept. 4. Ongoing registration hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday in the Administration Building at Madonna College.

Madonna is operated and owned by the Felician Sisters, an order which originated in Poland. The college is at the corner of Schoolcraft (I-96) and Levan in Livonia, just east of I-275.
