

Cindy Woodridge, age 11, portrays Flora, one of the children in "Turn of the Screw" at Oakland University.

Suspenseful drama opens theater season

Oakland University's Theatre Arts Program opens its 1979-80 season Thursday, Nov. 15, with "Turn of the Screw," an original play based on the chilling novel by Henry James.

"Turn of the Screw" is written and directed by Adeline Hirschfeld-Medalia, director of the Theatre Arts Program. The play features an original musical score by Oakland University student David Gottlieb of Simi Valley, Calif. Gottlieb, working under a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts, has used orchestra, chorus and percussion to underscore the evil theme that runs throughout the drama.

"Turn of the Screw" concerns a governess who comes to care for two children who appear to be controlled by the spirits of their former governess and male servant who each died under mysterious circumstances. The governess narrates the eerie tale.

MARY STRAUSS of Birmingham plays the first governess while Janet Marie Cheff of Hazel Park is governess No. II. Cindy Woodridge of Southfield, an 11-year-old student at Brookside School Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills, is Flora, one of the children. The part of Miles, the second child, is portrayed by Kim Workman of Rochester.

Tickets are priced for general admission and for OU students and senior citizens. Group rates are available. For information call 377-2000.

"Turn of the Screw" will be performed Thursday-Saturday, Nov. 15-17; Friday-Saturday, Nov. 23-24; Thursday-Friday, Nov. 29-30, and Saturday-Sunday, Dec. 1-2, in the Studio Theater of Varner Hall. There are performances at 2:30 and 6:30 p.m. Nov. 18 and Dec. 2. All other curtains are at 8 p.m.

Turkey still leads way to Thanksgiving Day

Northfield Hilton chefs are talking turkey these days. They are also talking ham, steamship round of beef and all those other culinary embellishments that have made Thanksgiving a traditional family dining out day.

The Thanksgiving buffet is served from 11:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 22. At 4 p.m. the regular table service menus will be served along with a turkey special.

Frederick Cooper Lamps,
The finest money can buy,
now can be bought
for half as much money.

Incredible.

Solid brass. Meticulous hand-painted designs. Imported porcelain. Shantung silk shades. These designer lamps by Frederick Cooper are more than mere lamps. They're works of art. But England's 50% off prices are the stroke of genius. Because when we went to the finest manufacturers looking for their best closeout values (as we do every year at this time), we discovered this superb collection. And the reason we were able to buy them at such superb prices is simple: Many are one-of-a-kind, or discontinued styles (discontinued solely because the cost of importing them next year would be prohibitive). When you see these incredible lamps in person (what you see here is but a sampling of our entire selection) — and see the prices — you won't believe it. But we only have 150, so do it now. Because at these prices, if we aren't sold out in a few days, we won't believe it.
