Central handles Fordson in grid playoff

By DAVE SCHWARTZ

Dearborn Fordson may have the Tractors, but the Mach trucks of Catholic Central prevailed.

CC showed a packed house at Birmingham Groves High School the meaning of football domination, with a stunning 28-8 quarterfinal win over previously undefeated Fordson, ranked as everybody's number one team in Class A.

The Shamrocks showed what they thought of the ratings and totally subdued the Tractors, holding them to 88 yards total offense, and a mere eight in the second half. So it's keep on trucking for coach Tom weekend for the barry park.

The game was billed as a dream matchup, the high school game of the year. It was everything they said it would be, and more.

Fordson showed people why it was so highly regarded, scoring first. Ed Guldot picked off a Mike Lewis pass and rambled 30 yards down to the CC 41. On the second play of the second quarter, quarterback John Gross sneaked in from the one-yard line, and Fordson had drawn first blood. After a penally, Guido ran in a two-point conversion for an 8-0 Fordson lead.

At first, CC had its troubles, but subsequent events took all the juice out of the Tractors. John Utter started the turn of events by intercepting a pass, giving the Sharmceks the ball near midfield.

On fourth down and one, at the Fordson 41, Mach called timeout. The resulting play fooled everybody in the stadium and changed the tide in favor of the Blue and White. Lewis dropped back and hit end Bill Matthews on a fly pattern for a 40-yard touchdown. The try for two-points failed, but CC was back in the ballgame.

When Fordson failed to move the ball, it was sparkplug Lewis who broke the camel's back. He took the Tractor punt, made a move on a Fordson defender that O.J. Simpson would have been prood of, and was off to the refses for a 58-yard TD return. The fired-up Sharmocks, spurred on by a vocal throng of rooters in the full house, almost got another score before the half, but a host of penalties ended a sustained march and kept the score 12-8. Fordson, not used to being behind, lost its polse in the second half, and the Sharmocks blew down the doors.

Junior tailback Aaron Roberts, a running back with speed, guts and sawy, started the third quarter off in grand style by breaking a 64-yard touchdown run. Rick Micunek's kick gave the Shamrocks an 11-point margin.

Roberts, who gained 1,005 yards in the Roberts, who gained 1,005 yards in the regular season, classed his way for 132 yards against the Tractors, as CC rolled up 327 yards total offense. Sturdy running mate Mike Renkiewicz added 82. Meanwhile, Fordson's Guido, billed as the best running back in the state, was held to just 13 yards. Guido added to Fordson's frustration by being ejected late in the third quarter after thiting running back. Utter 31 december 10 years of the whistle, and possibly seriously injuring him.
