

Christmas concert will feature ballet

Several Southfield performers will take part when the Oak Park Symphony presents its Christmas concert at 8:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 9.

The event is scheduled for the Oak Park High School auditorium, 13701 Oak Park Blvd.

Under the direction of Morris Hochberg, the orchestra will perform with the Contemporary Civic Ballet under the leadership of Rosemarie Floyd.

The program will be all Tchaikovsky. The first number will be "Serenade for Strings" followed by the "Overture Fantasia - Romeo and Juliet."

The orchestra will accompany the ballet in the performance of the last act of "Sleeping Beauty," with guest dancer James Dunn of New York.

Both the symphony and its conductor have been cited for outstanding performances as a community orchestra.

Hochberg heads both the String Department and the Chamber Music Department of Wayne State University

Music School. He is also the conductor of the St. Clair Shores Symphony Orchestra.

Rosemarie Floyd's Contemporary Civic Ballet Company is in its 24th year. They have performed with symphony orchestras in many areas as well as with the Interlochen Arts Academy Symphony and in England.

She holds a Fellowship-Membership with the Imperial Society of London after receiving the Advanced Maestro Cecchetti Diploma, the highest honor in the ballet branch of the Imperial Society of Teachers of Dance. Only four other U.S. teachers share this honor.

She received the Headliner's Award as "Woman of the Year" in 1975 from Wayne State University.

James Dunn is presently with the Dennis Wayne Dancers in New York and has danced with the Joffrey Company and the Harkness Ballet.

Tickets are $4 for adults and $2.50 for students. For more information call 542-4666.

Sabra Society launched by State of Israel Bonds

Martin G. Deutch of Southfield will serve as Michigan chairman of the recently formed Sabra Society of State of Israel Bonds.

Marvin Hamilisch, composer, is the first president of the society.

The organization is aimed at young persons who wish to advance Israel's internal development through the purchase of bonds.

In accepting the Michigan leadership role, Deutch said: "As a Jew, I think it is essential to support a state that Jews from all over the world can immigrate to, and live freely in, without the pressures of anti-Semitism."

As chairman of the Michigan Sabra

Society, I look to an ingathering of Israel's young friends, who will represent the continuity of leadership for decades to come."

The new chairman, president of Deutch Realty and Investment Company, is a native Detroitier who attended Mumford High School, Michigan State University, University of Detroit and the University of Detroit Law School.

Deutch devotes some of his busy schedule to helping solve the legal problems of the elderly.

Presently he plans to establish a founders group of 50, to plan for the new society. Interested persons can reach him by calling 353-1260.

Benefit raises $40,000

A benefit for the radiation oncology center raised more than $40,000 last week according to Rosemarie Karbal of Southfield, benefit chairwoman. Proceeds will help purchase a neutron therapy cyclotron, a new advance which will be used to treat cancers of the head, neck and pelvic areas. The Center is a joint effort of the Detroit Medical Center and Wayne State University and will open early in 1980. You're cordially invited... our experts will entertain you with the precision sculpture of Miguel Berrocal. You'll be amazed with the solid cast metal elements as they click, slide, rotate, snap and lock into position. Berrocal's revolutionary contribution to modern art is his premise that the interior of his sculpture is as important as its exterior.

Eighteen works in limited editions of bronze, silver, and gold will be demonstrated. Current investment prices range from $225 to $11,000.
