

Gasche-Katterman

Sharon Ann Katterman of Farmington Hills and Mark K. Gasche of Vincennes, Ind., were married Oct. 13 in Shepherd King Lutheran Church, West Bloomfield.

Parents of the newlyweds are Derald and Barbara Katterman of Farmington Hills and Barbara Gasche of Clio, and Kermit Gasche of Indianapolis, Ind.

The bride wore a white silk organza dress with a sweetheart neckline and full sleeves. The bodice and additional accents were done in silk Venice lace. The bouquet consisted of white carnations and roses in a colonial shape with ivy cascades.

The brides attendants were Lisa Adams of Liscomb, Iowa, maid of honor, Janet Turry, Marsha Gilbert, Rhonda Pink and Laurie Woffron.

They wore full length gowns in deep royal blue crepe satin. The A-line gowns were covered by capes in floral blues, pinks and lavender.

The bridegroom's attendants were Glenn Woodward of Midland, best man; Perry Pastula, Kurt Ludlow, Rick Katterman and Mitch Gasche.

Campbell—De Bin

Lauren Antonia De Bin of Farmington Hills and David Lyle Campbell of Ypsilanti were married in St. Genevieve's Roman Catholic Church, Livonia, in September.

Parents of the newlyweds are Dr. and Mrs. Anthony De Bin of Farmington Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell of Georgia.

The bride wore a lace-trimmed hooded veil and an empire waisted gown with bishop sleeves and a pearl beaded lace choker.

After the ceremony, the couple met their guests at a reception in Botsford Inn, Farmington Hills.

She is a graduate of Farmington High School. Both are graduates of Eastern Michigan University.

After a honeymoon in Washington, D.C., the couple will reside in Ypsilanti.

J.B. Biggley (Howard Egan of Farmington Hills) and J. Pierpont Finch (David Turrentine of Northville) sing a tribute to "Grand Old Ivy" in the Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford's production of "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

Anniversary is celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M. Guy of Farmington are celebrating their golden anniversary on Nov. 27.

They were married in 1929 in Atlanta, Ga.

A dinner party for friends and family is planned to celebrate the event. The couple's three children, Dan Guy Jr. of Bellvue, Wash., Margaret Brodbeck of East Lansing and Thomas Guy of Vinton, Va., will host the party at the University Club in Lansing.

More than 30 family members from as far away as Bayside, Calif., will attend the anniversary reunion. Five of the couple's six grandchildren, William Armstrong Jr., Danny Guy III, Christopher Guy and Elizabeth Guy will attend the celebration. Another grandson, Guy Armstrong, attends school in London, England, and will send a recording of best wishes.

Michigan residents for 34 years, Mr. and Mrs. Guy are active members of the Farmington Methodist Church, the Farmington Historical Society and the Farmington chapter of the American Association for Retired Persons. Guy is retired from his position as director of technical services for the Ethyl Corp.

Pine cone wreaths created in workshop

The Wonderful Wednesday Series sponsored by Farmington Community Center concludes with Marion Westberg's "Pine Cone Wreaths Workshop" Nov. 28.

The session runs from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. in the center.

Participants will complete a pine cone wreath that can be used all year round.

With holly and red ribbon, it is a decorative accent for the Christmas holidays. With a miniature pilgrim and some wheat, it is a Thanksgiving decoration, and so, throughout the holidays of the year.

Group presents 'How to Succeed'

The Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford is gearing up to show its audiences "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" at 8 p.m. Nov. 23, 24, 30 and Dec. 1.

The play at Stevenson High School Auditorium, 33500 Six Mile, Livonia, deals with the story of a young man, J. Pierpont Finch (David Turrentine of Northville) who climbs to a position of power by following the rules in a best-seller entitled "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

The unseen voice of the book will be newscaster Erik Smith.

Through Finch's rise to power, there is one woman who stays by his side. Sandi Martin of Detroit takes the role of Rosemary.

Smith, Rosemary's cynical friend, is portrayed by Susan Diebolt of Plymouth.

One of the obstacles the story's up-and-coming hero must face on his road to management fame is his boss, J.B. Biggley (Howard Egan of Farmington Hills.) Of course, another nemesis is the boss' nephew, Frump. (Dave Tucker of Livonia.)

The supporting cast includes Patti Wright of Farmington Hills and Marion Tournaud of Farmington.

Tickets to the show are $5; $2.50 for seniors and students on opening night. Seats may be reserved by calling 421-2500, ext. 221 or 464-0735.
