

Falcon pep band rallies for Flyers

Jamie Sexton, goalie for the Farmington Flyers, gets ready to make another save.

It was a good, old-fashioned "rah rah" pep rally — complete with a band, cheerleaders, exuberant fans and lots of team spirit.

The ceremony was a pre-game warm-up before the undefeated Farmington Flyers floor hockey team took the field with a two wins, no-loss record Thursday.

But despite the party atmosphere, the Farmington Training Center team suffered its first defeat.

Couch Ed Wolf wasn't too dismayed. A special education instructor for the mentally handicapped students who attend Farmington Training Center, Wolf said the pep rally was a good example of the unity within the Farmington School District.

The band came courtesy of neighboring Farmington High School.

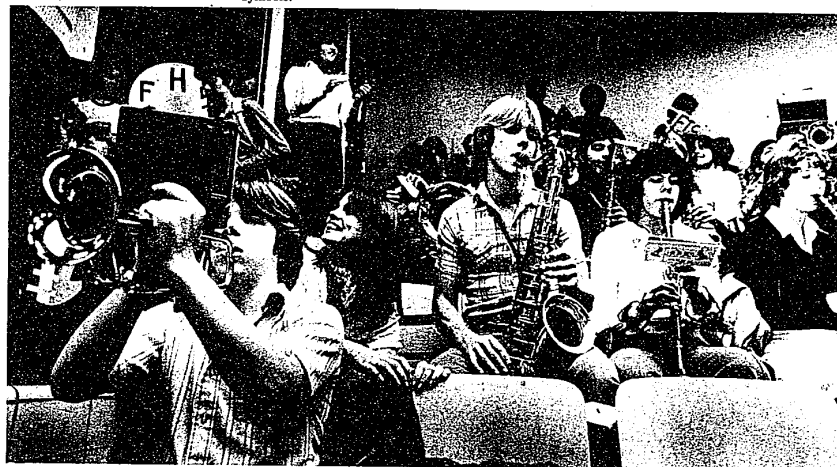

"Farmington has a great special education program," Wolf said. "I think this sort of participation between the schools is a very positive thing."

Despite the loss, Wolf said the day was still a winner.

Staff photos by Randy Borst

Rick DeForge, a senior at Farmington High and a member of the pep band, gets ready to clash the symbols.

The Farmington High pep band strikes up the music.

THE INSIDE * ANGLE

By LOUISE OKRUTSKY

THAT ALL IMPORANT and sometimes surprising 10th-year reunion is looming ahead for people who graduated from high school in 1970. The 1970 graduating class of All Saints High School of Detroit is planning its reunion, tentatively set for fall of 1980. Anyone who was a class member or who knows a class member should call or write to Betty Soter Schepens, reunion committee chairwoman, 3491 Richmond, Lincoln Park 48146; 381-3557.

THE CIVIL WAR is remembered on Nov. 26 in the Farmington Hills branch library on 12 Mile when the Michigan Civil War Regimental Roundtable meets. The group will discuss the history of the Grand Army of the Republic, a veterans organization formed after the Civil War. Don Limpert will be the guest speaker. Refreshments will be served at 6:30 p.m. Discussion and business meeting begins at 7 p.m. (Visitors won't be asked to recite Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.)

THERE'S A LOTTERY winner in our midst. Angles salutes Jane Hochstein who won $13,000 in the Michigan Superplay drawing. She matched the two-digit and three-digit number on a 50-cent ticket. Mrs. Hochstein is a bookkeeper for Cherry Hill Lanes, Dearborn Heights. She and her husband Theodore have seven children. Angles salutes: $$$$$$

THERE WAS A WHOLE lot of visiting going on at North Farmington and Harrison High Schools, recently, when the North Central accreditation team visited. The accreditation team is part of the North Central Association of School and Colleges, a regional accrediting association of educational institutions. It's an independent, private league of educators and educational institutions. Results of the study are due within a month.

FARMINGTON HILLS PARKS AND RECREATION department is still accepting boys and girls in the fifth-eighth grades for its basketball teams. Parents must accompany their son or daughter to the parks and recreation office in Hills city hall on 11 Mile near Orchard Lake Road when they register. The program begins Dec. 1. The boys' team plays at 10 a.m., the girls at 11:30 a.m. in a Farmington high school. This is an eight-week program with games beginning on Jan. 5. There is a $9 fee for the program. (Gotta basketball jones . . . basketball jones.)

CONGRATULATIONS CORNER: A whole bunch of Angles' very own exclamation marks go out to these achievers:

To Susan Osborne of Farmington Hills who was honored at the Hutzel Hospital Service Awards dinner this month in Detroit's Ponchartrain Hotel.

Ms. Osborne is coordinator of patient financial affairs at the Detroit Medical Center facility. She has been at Hutzel since 1964.

She is a 1964 graduate of Farmington High School. To you Ms. Osborne: ! ! ! ! ! ! ! (a fresh bouquet of exclamation points.)

Another bouquet goes out to Joan Elizabeth Daly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Daly of Farmington Hills, who was selected for membership in Kappa Alpha Theta at Michigan State University, recently. She was among 32 chosen. She is a sophomore majoring in journalism. Ms. Daly is a graduate of North Farmington High School. (Here's your bouquet: ! ! ! ! ! ! !).

And Timothy J. Kalosky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kalosky of Farmington has been cited for academic excellence recently by the Riverside Military Academy. A squadron of military-type salutes to you, SIR: * * * * *

"YOU DASTARDLY VILLIAN," you, once again will be the cry and hue when the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College presents the Alpha-Omega Repertory Players in a presentation of the 1844 play "The Drunkard." This piece of Americana features a stalwart hero and heroine in distress and the standard dastardly villain. (With standard mustache and cape, railroad tracks are optional.) The play begins at 6:30 p.m. Nov. 28 and tickets are $7.50 for adults and $4 for children younger than 12 and seniors older than 65. Ticket price includes dinner.

For more information, call the Orchard Ridge Student Activities Office at 476-9400.

TELEPHONE CONNECTIONS

To connect with the Farmington Observer use the following numbers:

- Staff — 477-5450
- Delivery — 591-0500
- Classifieds — 591-0300
- Display Ads — 591-2300
- Legal Ads — 591-2300

MAIL IT TO US

To place an item in Angles, mail it to us at 23352 Farmington Road, Farmington 48024. Allow at least one week before publication. All material becomes the property of the Farmington Observer. Sorry, no photos will be used. You, too, can become a complete angler.

hudson's favorite things

...sweet dreams

And warm, brushed gowns from Gilligan & O'Malley. Long elegant gowns with flowing lines falling softly from a smocked U-neckline. Appealing, soft sleepwear. Appropriate for both morning and evening lounging during these cold winter months. Made of easy-care pointelle brushed nylon in white or blush. Sizes P-S-M-L, $25. New Reflections Sleepwear, all stores.

