Hillsdale downs OU in 'critical' basketball game

By MARTY BUNNER

Qakland basketball coach Lee Frederick labeled Monday evening's loss to Hillsdale College
"critical."

The defeat snapped Oakland's seven-game homecourt winning strsak, which started
Dec. 8 against Northern Kentucky.
"I thought that Hillsdale was our most important game of the season," said Frederick, whose Pioneers lost to the Chargers (13-3 overall) by five points, 69-84.
"I'm disappointed. The Hillsdale game was critical because if we would have won, it would have given us a winning record in the league (Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference).
Now we have to scratch and claw to get back into and claw to get back into

it."
The young Pioneers are 8-5 overall, but 1-2 in the GLIAC. Oakland beat Lake Superior State, and lost a close game to archrival Wayne State earlier this month.

have better prepared his team for GLIAC competition. Oakland must travel as Saturday to Saginaw Vale 2 saturday to Saginaw Vale 2 saturday to Saginaw Vale 2 saturday to Head of the season, and so far he's been playing very well for us," said Frederick, "He's been our offensive leader, "Our trip to Antigua 2 was fascinating. I was shoping we would have solved some of our problems down there, but we didn't do it," said Frederick, "It's just a case of us gaintaing confrience. That's why we had to beat Hillsdate — and we couldn't do it.

"But I'm an eternal ontime"."

"But I'm an eternal op-timist. I like the intensity our kids have been play-ing with all year. All of our games have been close, and I believe we're going to make people sweat in the rest of our games."

OAKLAND'S leading player this season has been junior forward Rich Brauer. A graduate of Lutheran West High School, Brauer has been averaging 24 points.

Over the Christmas holidays, the Pioneers were busy expanding a 6-foot-9 junior center, their baskeball skills against a group of National players from Antigua in the West Indies.

game against Hillsdale, and he'll be getting a chance to play a lot more."

The Chargers, playing an deliberate offensive game with many stalls, stather free-throw line. Hillsdale converted 25 of 34 free throws for an excellent 31 percent average. Oakland countered with 10-13. "Two of those free shots came on a second-half for us, but I thought we adjusted well. We pressed the whole game, and I thought that helped us. It's just that we couldn't come up with the re-bounds when we needed them."

OAKLAND, which scored five more baskets than Hillsdale (27-22), held the lead five times in a see-saw first half which ended in a 29-29 tie.

Hillsdale took a quick lead in the second half on baskets by Bloomfield Hills Lahser graduate Riob Fodor, Toledo's Ted Hauptiman and Johnny Hill. Oakland rallied, but never caught up.

The Pioneers closed the margin to 60-58 with 14 points, closely forced to foul to get the ball back. However, bunded 35-31, with eight rebounds.

"We scored eight kids," said Salem coach Ron Krueger. "Five of our kids made the finals. When you get that kind of depth, you'll do well in a big togmament. The bigger the tournament, the better I feel we're gonna do."

JIM SCHULTZ was the champion at the 105-poind weight class for Salem. He beat Annapolis' Ron Sullivan in the finals on a 3-2 decision. Jerry Valethine took Salem's other title with a 7-2 decision over Fenton's Jeff Soper at 132 pounds. Jeff Brown, Jeff Powers and Greg Gattoni took second-place bonors for the Rocks.

Brown lost an 8-7 decision to Farmington's John Murphy in the final of the 119-pound weight class.

Fowers dropped a 5-2 decision to Farmington's
Greg Lemanski at 185. Gattoni lasted just 58 seconds in his heavyweight match against Edsel Ford's Dean Ledford before getting pinned.

Jüher Rock points were provided by Jeff Dunson's fourth-place finish in the 112-pound class, Mark Ross' fourth in the 126 class and Scott Piper's fifth at 155 pounds.

Il was easy for Krueger to explain the Rocks'
secret of success. "We've got stome good wrestlers," he stated. "We've got a tot of depth. We have nine saintors on the squad.

"We felt that we could win it. We had faced most of the other school's before."

Glenn sent row wrestlers, Pete Bologna and Gary Black, to the finals en route to its strong fifth-place diam finish. Both were defeated in title matches.

"Bologna lost a 4-2 decision to Annapolis' Al Prusae at 198 pounds and Black finished second by losing a 2-2 decision to Dearborn Edsel Ford's Pat Brückett at 199.

"Glenn also received good efforts from Duane Glibs, who placed third at 145 pounds, Jamiel Cock-

Fracket at 198.

"Glenn also received good efforts from Duane Gibbs, who placed third at 145 pounds; Jamie Cockrum, fourth at 138; and David German, fifth at 188.
"Have you seen the difference between second and fifth place?" asked Glenn coach Bob Lusk. (Gjenn's 140 points were just eight points out of second.)
"One more pin could have made all the difference have in the world," said Lusk. Second place wasn't dedded until the next to last match of the meet. It was that close. I was super pleased with our performance overall."

BRIAN GALDES starred for Thurston. His pin of North Farmington's John Donovan in 39 seconds gave him the area's only other individual title. The pin was also the fastest of all the championship natches.

Harry Newton was fifth at 105, the same finish
