

Area flier builds plane

The ultra-light aircraft was originally built as a hang-glider. The engine was added, Quain says, so that people in the mid-west could fly without benefit of hills or mountains as launch sites.

"NOW PEOPLE are developing ultra-lights with small framed aircraft," he said. "Several companies are building them."

His own interest evolved six years ago when he first attended the Experimental Aircraft Association air show in Oshkosh, Wis., one of the biggest annual aviation events in the country. Quain returns to Oshkosh every summer for the show.

"I want to build planes for the rest of my life," he says. "I enjoy flying so much. It's quite a thrill, there's nothing around you."

For an adult who has spent most of his life in school, Quain says he enjoys flying because "It's strictly an outside activity, totally relaxing." His workshop contains an unusual mixture of aviation gear and dental bridgework.

Pat Quain straps into the harness he uses as a seat in his ultra-light Easy Riser airplane. The aircraft accommodates one person weighing up to 200 pounds.

Nuclear crisis plan is called 'inadequate'

"Besides poor public education prior to an accident, the plans make no provision for long-term decontamination or medical treatment which will be the major concern after public evacuation."

Clofelter said that as the plans currently stand, people would discover they were in danger through the media, as they did at Three Mile Island. "They would, for the most part, have to fend for themselves," he said.

The special joint committee on nuclear energy is continuing its review of nuclear power in Michigan. The committee has not yet formulated recommendations.

Over 11½% yield on your money... from a Government-Guaranteed Security. And the income is paid monthly.

Not just for 6 months, but year after year after year

For safety and high income... paid monthly... it's difficult to match GNMA Mortgage-Backed Certificates. They bear a U.S. Government guarantee on "the timely payment of both principal and interest." Since many GNMA's are now selling at discount from the original issue price, the face amount interest (varying upwards from 6%) actually yields over 11% for current investors.*

What are GNMA Certificates?
GNMA stands for Government National Mortgage Association, a part of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The money raised by the sale of these GNMA Guaranteed Certificates is used to finance mortgages. GNMA guarantees timely payment of both principal and interest on these Mortgage-Backed Certificates, and its guarantee is backed by the full faith and credit of the government of the United States of America.

When you buy a Certificate, sold by Kidder, Peabody in units of $25,000, you purchase a share of a pool of insured FHA or VA mortgages. Each certificate issued against the specific "pool" is GNMA guaranteed. You enjoy a number of advantages which were designed initially to attract money from pension funds and other institutional investors into residential and health-care facility mortgages. But if you're a substantial individual investor, you also can obtain all the benefits for your own personal "pension fund."

Advantages of GNMA Certificates

- They currently yield over 11% compared to an approximate 10% on comparable maturing U.S. Government Bonds.
- Principal and interest, and their timely payment, are guaranteed by the U.S. Government.
- Interest and principal come in convenient monthly payments...ideal for wealthy retired people or those interested in current income with a high degree of safety.
- There are none of the traditional and often necessary burdens of ordinary mortgage investment...no legal expenses, no administrative work, and no worry about late payments.
- GNMA Certificates can be turned into cash more readily than ordinary mortgages.
- No interest penalty is charged if Certificates are sold prior to maturity.
- Attractive investment for large and small corporations with excess cash.
