

The Bride

Jacobson's of Birmingham cordially invites you and your guests to attend the preview showing of Spring/Summer Bridal Fashions for 1980 on Saturday, the ninth of February at one o'clock in the afternoon in the Birmingham Community House, Bates Street.

We invite you to register your preferences in china, crystal, silver and linens in our Store for the Home. Our Bridal gift registry is a convenience to family and friends in gift selections and avoids inconvenient duplications. Our bridal services include invitations and personal stationery, trousseaus, jewelry for the bride, groom and wedding party, beauty salon and an experienced bridal consultant to assist in coordinating your wedding plans.

BIRMINGHAM

Crisp and fresh is this white embroidered cotton eyelet bridal gown with a double tiered ruffle bodice that may be worn on or off the shoulder. Bridal gowns for the '80s will also feature more boufant skirts. This one retails for about $260 and is a Murray Hamburger design. (Staff photo by Dick Kelley)

A rose
is a rose . . .

The romantic fantasy created by Athanassian and Glasgow in off-white is crinolined and petticoated twice under satin, with an overlay of three layers of organza. Hand-made silk roses cascade across the skirt of the gown. The flowers are repeated on the elastic drop shoulders. It carries a price tag of $1,100. (Staff photo by Dick Kelley)
