Empathy evident in this writing

Dear Mrs. Green,

Your column intrigues me so much that it's the first thing I look for when my paper is delivered!

I'm a gal of 53 now, but when I was 18, I had my handwriting analyzed and it would be great fun to compare them now. I've kept the results all this time. Does that reveal anything about me?

I hope you'll select my letter for analyzing. Love your column!
P.B., Garden City

Dear P.B.,
I have no idea what you do in life. However, I do know that whatever it is, it should include people.

The gestalt picture of your handwriting reveals a person who is filled with empathy for others. You are agreeable, affectionate, outgoing, understanding, compassionate, caring, kindly and friendly. You relate well to others and they to you. Your unselfish nature has you ever aware and concerned about others. Forbearance and consideration are other positive traits in your personality.

You dislike being rushed and often have a patient, unhurried manner as you deal with life and people.
In your personal relationships with others you are refreshingly open and sincere with a sprinkling of feminine charm (open top circle letters and tapering of some m's and n's).
Pride and confidence are revealed in your good sized capitals and the height of your 't' stems. Friends know they can count on you for a good job. You are extremely observant and attentive (separation between capitals and lower case letters).
Although you were a little down when you wrote this letter, I feel certain this was a temporary condition because many other signs point up your desire to keep your moods on an even keel and your pleasantness. Also a sense of humor, (which is suggested by the flourish lead-in strokes on your capital M's) would be a real asset in helping you see the lighter side of life. I always think a sense of humor is a most valuable asset.
Now, regarding the comment on your previous analysis, I have a feeling you will be keeping this analysis for a long time also. And you really should; you are a beautiful person, P.B.!

If you have a question about your personality write to Mrs. Lorene C. Green in care of this newspaper.

Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper and write in the first person singular. Time only allows Mrs. Green to answer your letters through the column.
