Graham steals the show in his acting, while Told and Miss Parsons are perfect matches for each other. Told is excellent in his love struck scenes with his high powered telescope, but his obvious trouble with some of the lines was disconnecting.

There's one set, but only a Mrs. O'Connell to assure a tion in Mt. Clemens who done the same show th

Miss Parsons has a flair for comedy, but she had trouble with the role's heavy southern accent.

The comedy plays in repertory with the musical. "The Apple Tree." following a vacation break over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Chorale Works And Premiere Concert Fare

Choral works by Benjamin Britten and Carl Orff, and the premiere of a composition by Robert W. Jones, composer-in-residence to the Schoolcraft College community, will be presented by the college's music department on Tuesday night, Dec. 9.

The concert, to begin at 8 p.m., in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center, is open to the public at no charge. Jones' composition, "North of Buston," will be performed by the Schoolcraft Madrigal Singers, a group of 14 voices from the Chorale. The work is based on two lyrics of poet Robert Frost. Bloom will conduct both works.
