Blues and jazz singer Phoebe Snow will perform at Oakland University at 8 p.m. Friday, March 30, in the Sports and Recreation Building. Corky Siegel, versatile blues musician, will open the show. Tickets are priced for general admission. OU students will be admitted for a discount price only if the tickets are purchased in advance at the Campus Ticket Office, room 49, Oakland Center.

Phoebe Snow, whose latest album is Columbia Records "Against the Grain," is noted for her no-nonsense performing style, belting out blues and jazz. Critics say the artist handles piercing high notes and contralto sounds with equal ease.

The singer cut her first album in early 1974, released by Shelter Records and entitled simply "Phoebe Snow." The album and her first single, "Poetry Man," started climbing on the charts. The album was a Gold record seller.

Tickets for the concert are available at all metropolitan Detroit Hudson's stores, at Peaches Records in Dearborn and Fraser, at Full Moon Records in Rochester, and at the Record Outlet in Farmington Hills.

In addition, tickets can be purchased at the Campus Ticket Office in the Oakland Center at the university near Rochester. For information call 377-2000.
