Providence says thanks to benefactors

Providence Hospital Foundation and Providence Hospital Medical Staff Research Foundation has set May 11 for its second annual Friends of Providence awards dinner.

The black-tie dinner will be given in Fairlane Manor, Dearborn, to express appreciation to benefactors which have enabled the hospital foundation to contribute more than $140,000 last year.

The money was used for medical equipment, facility expansion and community education programs. The latter includes the campaign now underway in Southfield which will ultimately train 10,000 citizens in the art of cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the presentation of special awards to 10 physicians for distinguished service to Providence Hospital and its patients.

The dinner is under the general chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Moore, II, of Bloomfield Hills. He is a trustee of Providence Hospital Foundation.

The participation of the medical staff research foundation is being spearheaded by its chairman, John Cotant, M.D., and Mrs. Cotant of Farmington Hills. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dorsey of Bloomfield Hills are chairing the program book committee.

Inquiries about membership in Friends of Providence may be obtained by calling the office, 424-3421.

Town meeting features Ross

State Senator Doug Ross, D-Oak Park, will sponsor the first of a series of town meetings in the 15th senate district on May 3 in the Farmington Library at 8 p.m.

The library is at 23500 Liberty. Dr. Gerald Miller, director of management and budget, will make a short presentation on taxes, spending and the Headlee amendment, which will be followed by open discussion with the audience.
