West Bloomfield's softball team is handling the state tournament much the way it took the regular portion of its schedule — with a lot of power.

The Lakers won their second playoff contest last Tuesday, routing Birmingham Seabolt, 14-4, in a game that ended after six innings because of the mercy rule.

It was the second straight overwhelming victory in state playoff competition for West Bloomfield. Last week the Lakers obliterated Pontiac Central, 30-0, in another game stopped by the mercy rule.

Despite the two one-sided wins, West Bloomfield coach Bill Mason wasn't overly optimistic about his team's chances in the rest of the state tournament.

"It's just going to get harder," Mason said, whose Lakers are now 17-4 on the season. "From now on, we'll be meeting nothing but district champions. You just have to take this one game at a time."

Although the score was lopsided in the Seabolt contest, it wasn't until the fifth inning that West Bloomfield asserted itself. And that was only made possible by some timely errors by the Maples.

Seabolt struck for three runs in the first inning off of Lakewood starter Lynn Greer, a junior right-hander.

BUT WEST BLOOMFIELD came back with two runs in the third on consecutive singles by Teri Dixon, Carolyn Barcewicz and Barb Arnold, good for one run, and two straight walks to Stephanie Smith and Jean Freed, good for another.

The Lakers tied it in the fourth as Katie Odeana and Lisa Schmidt walked. Both moved up a base on Dixon's sacrifice bunt, and Odeana scored on Barcewicz's sacrifice fly.

But the Maples rallied for a run in the bottom of the fourth to recapture the lead before West Bloomfield tied it away with an eight-run fifth inning.

Freed started off the onslaught, as she lined the ball back to the Seabolt pitcher, Sue Linehan, who dropped the ball for an error. Jana Baringer followed with a walk and Odeana singled home the tying run.

Lisa Schmidt then walked and Dixon was safe on another error, this one by the third baseman, and Baringer scored what proved to be the winning run.

But it wasn't over yet. Barcewicz singled home Odeana, and Sandy DeSilvo also slugged a base hit to score another run. With the bases loaded, Smith connected for the third straight base hit, scoring two more runs and giving the Lakers a 9-4 lead.

Freed, batting for the second time in the inning, had another hit and a throwing error allowed West Bloomfield to score two more times before the inning was over.

THE LAKERS BROUGHT the mercy rule into effect with three markers in the sixth. Dixon, Barcewicz and Arnold all walked to load the bases, and Smith followed with a double to score two runs. Freed then singled in another to give the Lakers a 14-4 lead.

Seabolt had the opportunity to bat in the bottom of the sixth, but couldn't score, ending the game an inning early.

Greer was the winning pitcher, allowing four runs on four hits and seven walks while striking out five. It was her 11th victory of the year. Linehan was the loser for Seabolt.

The Lakers, who finished the regular season Wednesday against Pontiac Catholic, will face the winner of the Waterford Mott-Waterford Township game at 10 a.m. Saturday at Birmingham Groves.
