

Lakes Are Subject Of Show

DETROIT An exceptionally fine exhibit of color photography is currently being shown in the Dossin Great Lakes Museum.

This collection of 70 large color prints of the Great Lakes include some of the most spectacular views of scenes and ships ever collected for a single showing, and all are the work of marine photographer, Harry Wolf.

Wolf was for 30 years, ship's photographer on first, the S.S. North American and later on the S.S. South American.

The exhibition is open Wednesday through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5:45 p.m. The museum is located on Belle Isle.
