Why
Chalmers knows
The NEW EDISON
gives his true voice

BECAUSE he has compared his voice with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Because thousands of people have heard this comparison. Because no one distinguishes any difference between his live voice and his RE-CREATED voice.

Don't take the word of a man who says that his voice is his true voice. See whether you know that such a man is a mechanical voice. The New Edison which reproduces which is your own voice. If you have a good voice, it is good to have it on a gramophone. If you have a good voice, it is good to have it on a gramophone.

YOUNG GIRL'S DARING CLIMB

Memory of Heroic Deed Has Been Treasured for Years in Little English Village.

A daring climb was accomplished at Repton in Lancashire, England, some years ago, the exploit being kept in memory by a fragment of wood that was used to mend the cross surmounting the lofty spire of the village church, and which was known locally as "Little Bessie's Rope." Bessie was the daughter of a Repton schoolmaster who one day, in a spirit of bravado and in order to win a bet of a few shillings, undertook to climb to the top of the spire and there don a suit of clothes with which he had been presented. True to his word he fixed his ladders on the day appointed, and climbed by their aid as far as the bottom of the big copper ball which topped the cross. Over one arm of the cross he then fastened a rope, up which he climbed, and afterward proceeded to don the clothes. Next, standing upright, he started to throw into the air, by one, his old garments, and, alas! however, there was a cry of affright from above, followed by a great rush below. The foolish fellow had somehow managed to loosen the rope, his sole connecting link with terra firma, and it slipped down and hung suspended from the opposite ladder, 30 feet below. Two or three men moved hesitatingly toward the church, but a child-woman of sixteen, his daughter, was there first.

Rung by rung she mounted until she looked no bigger than a doll. Then, after three false climblings meanwhile by one, and that one the left—the success of it, throwing the loosened cord over the cross once more.

HOUSEHOLD HITS

Cooking sherry will last longer if you fire the cook.

Spaghetti should not be cooked too long. About ten inches is right.

Honey may be used for sweetening almost anything but a traffic cop.

A cold bath will be found more pleasant if made with hot water.

There are several ways of using baked ham. One of the best is to eat it.

Photographs will keep the home from being dull, especially if they show hubby with a California bathing beauty.—Milwaukee Journal.
