Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Green were Pontiac visitors Monday. Mrs. Green attended the W. C. T. U. meeting.

Miss Reissman closed a successful term of school with a picnic Saturday in H. N. McCracken's woods, and the Eighth grade exercises on June 7th.

Last Thursday afternoon, June 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Howard, the Willing Workers elected their officers for the ensuing year, as follows: President—Mrs. Dora Jones; Secretary—Edith Graham; Treasurer—Mary Bartlett.

CLARENCEVILLE

A Strawberry Social will be given by the Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church, Saturday evening, June 11th, on the church property.

The 14th 10th meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will very appropriately be an exhibit of the year's work, so far as practicable. Thus an opportunity will be provided to all those interested to see the progress made during the year; and to express to our unusually worthy corps of teachers, our appreciation of their efforts. Cooling refreshments will be served gratis.

Wednesday afternoon the leaders of Circle No. 5, of the Calvary M. E. church of Redford, accompanied by their families, came to remind Mr. and Mrs. Charles Teagan that it was time to celebrate the circle's birthday. A bountiful supper served to which all did ample justice. Mrs. Lang, in a few well-chosen words, presented Mr. Teagan with a bouquet to show the appreciation of the many things he had done for them; to help raise the first $100.00. Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lang and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. Mueller and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. Bowman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Giffin, Mr. and Mrs. C. Krussell and family, Miss Ramsey and Dr. and Mr. L. N. Tupper. Everyone departed hoping that Mr. and Mrs. Teagan would entertain the circle again soon.

Solomon's Temple.

The temple was the religious edifice of the Jews in Jerusalem. There were three buildings successively erected in the same spot, and named after their builders—the temple of Solomon, the temple of Zerubbabel, and the temple of Herod. The first was built by Solomon and was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar about 586 B. C. The second was built by the Jews on their return from the captivity (about 537 B. C.), and was pillaged or partly destroyed several times, especially by Antiochus Epiphanes, Pompey and Herod. The third, the largest and most magnificent of the three, was begun by Herod the Great, and was completely destroyed at the capture of Jerusalem by the Romans (A. D. 70). Various attempts have been made toward restoration of the first and the third of these temples, but scholars are not agreed in respect to architectural details.

Crow a Feathered Outlaw.

The crow has but few human friends, and possibly none outside its own family. Even its feathered neighbors do not care about it. Crows seem, however, to esteem each other's companionship, judging from the fact that a crow is seldom seen alone. They do their day's work, be it good or bad, in groups; they spend considerable time holding meetings by thousands, and they travel in somewhat army fashion. Crows are neither admired nor loved. Hundreds of birds have been given honorable places in literature, but if the crow is introduced, it is usually for the purpose of adding one more melancholy feature to a melancholy scene.

Some Try It.

"What's the use of cursing so continuously?"
"The damned auto won't go."
"Well, you can't run it by lung power."

Habits Are Dangerous.

He had been accustomed to assist in stock taking, while in business in the East, so he felt terribly outraged when they lynched him for rustling cattle in Montana.—Reut Public Ledger, Philadelphia.
