

Farmer's Headquarters

There are no people in this section with whom we are more anxious to be on intimate terms than with you farmers. But we don't want to wait until you need money before we get acquainted.

When we do make a loan we want the assurance, which comes only from knowing the borrower intimately, that we are lending money where it will do the most good.

Come into the bank often and tell us how things are coming. We are mightily interested in crops and live stock.

I longed to tell her, and yet my tongue clove to the roof of my mouth; would she understand, I wondered? How can one tell a woman that she has forgotten to notice both sides of her face?—California Italian.
