Plan a years savings

If you find it hard to save money, perhaps it's because you're following a hit-or-miss plan -- or no plan at all.

Decide what you should save in a year's time. Then plan to deposit one fifty-second part of that amount, EACH WEEK, in an interest bearing account at this bank.

It's a fact you'll get better results from this plan than from occasional deposits of large amounts. You'll not greatly miss the smaller weekly deposits either.
