

Dad's Responsibilities

You know the old song: "Everybody Works But Father." It is all wrong and should be changed to read: "Everybody Works Father." That would be a lot nearer the truth.

In nearly every family somebody has to be the "goat." Usually it is dad. He works and tries to save, but the demands of the family keep his nose pretty close to the grindstone most of the time. Still, a little money, even only a very little, pinched out every week, and deposited at our bank might prove a great help in time of need. Ease up a little on dad and give him the chance to do that.

BANK WITH US	PEOPLES STATE BANK OF FARMINGTON	WE PAY 4% INTEREST
	THE BANK GOOD SERVICE IS BUILDING

Special This Week---

Farmington Dairy Butter—40c per pound.

Fresh Strawberries Every Morning.

We have Tomatoes, Radishes, Asparagus, Green Onions, Lettuce, Cucumbers, Water Melons, and String Beans.

—FANCY GROCERIES AT RIGHT PRICES.—

FARMER'S
FRUIT & VEGETABLE STORE

Electric Service Is A Great Convenience

This you all know. But to enjoy the maximum benefits from the service your home must be properly equipped.

If you Install Convenient Outlets

On the porch, and in of the rooms you'll be in a position to reap 100 per cent of the advantages which Electric Service stands ready instantly to provide for you.

The use of Electric Lamps, Washers, Cleaners, Fans, Table Appliances, etc., is greatly facilitated by the installation of convenient receptacles for Electric Plugs. The cost is small.

THE DETROIT EDISON CO.

See US
before
You Buy

"The Hardware on the Corner."

LEE HARDWARE CO.

PONTIAC
Commercial & Savings BANK
Capital, Surplus and Profits Over
$1,000,000.00
Resources $12,000,000.00

This Bank is large enough to afford every facility for Service, and small enough to give each Customer Individual and Personal Attention.

The Bank of Personal Service.

Cramer Smith, President.
O. J. Beaudette, Vice-President.
A. A. Corwin, Vice-President.
C. E. Waldo, Vice-President.
C. J. Merz, Vice-President.
F. A. VanWagoner, Cashier.
B. J. Greer, Asst. Cashier.
A. G. Nicholise, Asst. Cashier.

Farmington
Creamery
Butter

Pure Pasturized
MILK and CREAM

Made by the
FARMINGTON DAIRY
Joe Himmelsbach
Prop.

Local News

Howard Stemann and wife were in Lansing over Sunday.

Mrs. Wm. Pangborn is suffering with neuritis this week.

Arthur Lamb is building a fine home, for Mrs. Ada Butten on Warner avenue.

Miss Ida Morris spent Tuesday evening in Detroit with her cousin Bella Rieger.

Miss Oliff Morrison spent Decoration day at Lansing with her parents.

The school picnic for the Pierston district is to be held at Walled Lake Monday.

Mrs. Ada Perkins of Detroit, visited her cousin, Mrs. Leon Green Saturday.

Born on Monday May 29th to Mr. and Mrs. Wm Burnham a fine baby boy, Paul Thomas.

Born Sunday May 21st to Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Franklin, of Novi, a son, Robert Edwin.

Raymond Smith son, of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith is suffering with measles and bronchitis.

Margaret and Murray Moore were home from Lansing to attend the J Hop Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Steffen visited three cemeteries memorial day and decorated graves of relatives.

Miss Banks of Toledo, Ohio, spent memorial day with Dr. Aschenbrenner and sister, Geraldine.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Everett, of Detroit, visited her sister Mrs. Carl Parker and family Memorial day.

St Clair Switzer is assisting in the Post office. Mr. Simms who has been employed there has resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Klark of Detroit, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Auten on Sunday.

T. H. Carson and family spent Sunday at Ann Arbor and Whiteford Lake as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Degan.

The Cass Avenue M. E. church people held a picnic at the Methodist Children's Home Memorial day.

Herman Trapp and Delmer Stearns have purchased Willys-Overland cars of Kahl & Tama at the Park garage.

Mrs. Ralph Hogle was taken to Detroit to a hospital for an operation last week and is doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. W. A. Nelson and children of Detroit, spent a few days this week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Connor.

Mrs. Florence Bachelor, Mrs. Arthur Lamb and Viola, and Mrs. Ranous were Monday evening visitors at Walled Lake.

Mrs. Harrison Johnson was taken to a Detroit hospital last week for an operation at last accounts was doing nicely.

Miss Bertha Ringel left last week for Canton, North Carolina, for a months visit with her sister, Mrs. J. A. Price and family.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Jacob Gladys and Richard Rossiter of Detroit visited their sister, Mrs. Norman Barrons and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crow and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Crow with their families, spent the week-end with their mother, Mrs. H. Crow on Adams Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Martin and baby, Barbara Jean, of Royal Oak, spent Friday and Saturday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Harger.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs, of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Broadwell, of Kingsville, and Mr. and Mrs. Clidden were visitors at the home of Mrs. Crow Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Angell of Redford, Fred Lamb of Cadillac, and Mrs. Perry Lamb of Colorado, spent Sunday with their brother, Arthur Lamb, and family.

Mrs. C. B. Carroll and two lady friends, Mrs. Ruhl and Mrs. Quilter of Bucyrus, Ohio, spent from last week Wednesday until Saturday with Harry Harding and wife.

Mrs. George McGee, daughter Jean, and son Joy, Mr. and Mrs. John Baich and two children and Clinton McGee of Pontiac spent the day Sunday with Mrs. A. McGee and daughter Mrs. Truscott.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dickinson and son, Bill, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hatten, his mother, Martha Hatten and daughter, Mary, of Ypsilanti, and Garner Groves and wife and Miss Wallace spent the week-end at their cottage, "Echo Lodge," at Long Lake.

Human bodies with bones of Rubber in displays of strength and skill here Wednesday, June 7.

Local News

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl K. Gullen of Detroit on May 24th, a son Earl Keane.

Sherman Yerkes visited his people in Petrolia, Ont., from Sunday until Tuesday.

Mrs. Larabee of Detroit visited her brother Ben Meyer and sister Pauline Vogt, Wednesday.

Mrs. Gusta Hother and son Ed of Detroit visited Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meyers and family Sunday.

Little Emily Gullen of Detroit is spending the week with her grandmother, Mrs. L. Gildemeister.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Pagel and daughter, Ruth Elaine, visited Mrs. Anna Pagel of Cass Lake Sunday.

Mr. L. Gildemeister and son Leo visited with her daughter Mrs. Earl K. Gullen in Detroit on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Smith and family of Ann Arbor, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bojd.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Bykes, G. W. Wilber, and wife, and Miss Katherine Sprague took dinner with Mrs. M. E. Wilber Sunday.

Mrs. Gus Wagner and daughter Alice and Mr. and Mrs. Mumby, of Northville were Sunday guests at the home of Ben Moers.

Mrs. Clorine Smith of Rockwood and Miss Ellen Bentley of Pontiac were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hendryx Memorial day.

"The White Eagle," western serial, Ruth Roland, six, and "A Certain Rich Man" will be the pictures at Methodist community hall Tuesday, also comedy.

Family day will be observed at the Methodist Church on Sunday morning, when the congregation will attend church in family groups. Seats will be reserved for families.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fuller motored to Charlotte Tuesday to meet Mrs. Fuller's brother, Mr. Bryan of Chicago. Mrs. Fullers mother Mrs. Bryan of Farmington went with them to Lansing.

Mrs. Laurence Gagnon of Detroit spent the week-end with her mother Mrs. H. A. Meyers. Mr. Arthur Wheeler a member of the 339 Russian Expedition in attended their reunion in Detroit Tuesday.

A crew of men are engaged in rebuilding the telephone line leading west from Farmington and another crew is rebuilding the line on the East Line from Northville. Parsons along the lines will be glad when service is again established.

The foundation for Farmington's new water tank has been constructed. The tank will be located on the high ground in the cemetery, being about 75 feet above the street level in the business district. This elevation ought to give a splendid pressure.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

A large number of persons and citizens from the surrounding towns journeyed to Redford Saturday afternoon to be present at the ceremonies of laying ground for Redford's proposed Masonic temple. Ralph Duff of Lansing represented the governor and made the principal address of the day. A number of Farmington Knights Templar took part in the parade.

Dr. H. H. Ford's wife and daughter, Winifred came Friday to attend the recognition services at the Baptist church. Friday evening. They returned to Traverse City Sunday night, accompanied by Dr. Ford. While here Mrs. Ford and daughter were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. E. Wilber.

Novi News

Novi News.

John Root and family are now occupying their new house.

Frank Becker of Pontiac was a Novi caller one day last week.

Mrs. Estella Miller has returned from Detroit to spend the summer.

Mrs. Martin Lake has been having a severe attack of throat trouble and neuralgia.

The people of Novi are much pleased with the prospect of having telephone service again soon.

Rev. O. J. Lyon, wife and son of Grand Rapids, called on the former's aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Coates, last Saturday.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Eugene Root on Wednesday afternoon, June 6th, and a large attendance is desired.

Flower mission day will be observed. Bring bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Deake and two children of Ypsilanti, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Putnam, Sunday. Mrs. Deake was formerly Miss Blanch Dingham of this place.

Those who attended the evening services at the Baptist church Sunday evening, enjoyed the very interesting service of the B. Y. P. U. in charge of Mrs. Frank Clark, also the sermon by the pastor, Rev. Osborn.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

For present Mrs. Coates will store her goods and spend a part of the time among friends in different places.

In some circles the report has become current that the Heeneys undertaking business here passed out of existence with the removal of W. E. Heeneys from Farmington.

Such is not the case, however. Spencer J. Heeneys purchased the interests of his brother and is conducting the business, serving public with anything in the line of undertaking and ambulance service. He is well pleased with his business in Farmington.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

For present Mrs. Coates will store her goods and spend a part of the time among friends in different places.

In some circles the report has become current that the Heeneys undertaking business here passed out of existence with the removal of W. E. Heeneys from Farmington.

Such is not the case, however. Spencer J. Heeneys purchased the interests of his brother and is conducting the business, serving public with anything in the line of undertaking and ambulance service. He is well pleased with his business in Farmington.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

For present Mrs. Coates will store her goods and spend a part of the time among friends in different places.

In some circles the report has become current that the Heeneys undertaking business here passed out of existence with the removal of W. E. Heeneys from Farmington.

Such is not the case, however. Spencer J. Heeneys purchased the interests of his brother and is conducting the business, serving public with anything in the line of undertaking and ambulance service. He is well pleased with his business in Farmington.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

For present Mrs. Coates will store her goods and spend a part of the time among friends in different places.

In some circles the report has become current that the Heeneys undertaking business here passed out of existence with the removal of W. E. Heeneys from Farmington.

Such is not the case, however. Spencer J. Heeneys purchased the interests of his brother and is conducting the business, serving public with anything in the line of undertaking and ambulance service. He is well pleased with his business in Farmington.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

For present Mrs. Coates will store her goods and spend a part of the time among friends in different places.

In some circles the report has become current that the Heeneys undertaking business here passed out of existence with the removal of W. E. Heeneys from Farmington.

Such is not the case, however. Spencer J. Heeneys purchased the interests of his brother and is conducting the business, serving public with anything in the line of undertaking and ambulance service. He is well pleased with his business in Farmington.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

For present Mrs. Coates will store her goods and spend a part of the time among friends in different places.

In some circles the report has become current that the Heeneys undertaking business here passed out of existence with the removal of W. E. Heeneys from Farmington.

Such is not the case, however. Spencer J. Heeneys purchased the interests of his brother and is conducting the business, serving public with anything in the line of undertaking and ambulance service. He is well pleased with his business in Farmington.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

For present Mrs. Coates will store her goods and spend a part of the time among friends in different places.

In some circles the report has become current that the Heeneys undertaking business here passed out of existence with the removal of W. E. Heeneys from Farmington.

Such is not the case, however. Spencer J. Heeneys purchased the interests of his brother and is conducting the business, serving public with anything in the line of undertaking and ambulance service. He is well pleased with his business in Farmington.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

For present Mrs. Coates will store her goods and spend a part of the time among friends in different places.

In some circles the report has become current that the Heeneys undertaking business here passed out of existence with the removal of W. E. Heeneys from Farmington.

Such is not the case, however. Spencer J. Heeneys purchased the interests of his brother and is conducting the business, serving public with anything in the line of undertaking and ambulance service. He is well pleased with his business in Farmington.

Clarence W. Smith and family of Redford, who recently purchased Mrs. Lizzie Coates' farm, have taken possession of their new home. The south half of the farm was purchased by E. J. Verdun, who will erect a bungalow to be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lake.

It Doesn't Always Happen

By JUSTIN WENTWOOD

Copyright, 1922, Western Newspaper Union.

"And worship her with years of noble deeds."

Until he wins her.

Little Miss Kramer repeated the words to herself softly. They were out of her favorite Tennyson, and Miss Kramer was romantic.

She was the telephone girl at Bridge & Stour, the wholesome little people. She had held her job five years. She was romantic. She had slipped her Tennyson under her hat, and she was reading the poet in the lunch hour.

"The trouble is," sighed Miss Kramer, "men are so horribly swift nowadays. And there's so little room for noble deeds. How is one to be sure?"

She almost watered from her fixed determination never to let any man speak to her of love until he had worshipped her for at least two years. But things did go faster now, and Miss Kramer was twenty-five.

That was not odd, of course, but she could be twenty-five before her knight-errant had worshipped her for two years, even if he came riding along immediately off the elevated.

No one had ever shown any disposition to worship Miss Kramer. Everybody liked her, and twice in her life young men had behaved foolishly and Miss Kramer had looked at them so reproachfully and they had shrunk away.

That was the pity of it. Men took so much for granted. There was young Don Haydon, the assistant bookkeeper, for instance. They had been good friends for nearly a year. Then he had asked permission to call at her boarding house, and—well, just what had happened?

All Miss Kramer could remember was that his arm had stopped hanging along the edge of his chair and had shown a tendency to stray across the arm of her chair to where her hand rested. And then—

Subtly, very subtly, Miss Kramer had conveyed the impression that that was not where Don Haydon's hand ought to be. He had left a few minutes afterward. And they had not seen each other since.

He had never called again.

She glanced across the hall at him as he sat wrestling with the books. Perhaps a thrill of apprehension ran through her—perhaps he was even now struggling to avert the rumored insolency of Bridge & Stour. Every one knew the firm was in deep water.

The cashier came out of the manager's office, carrying a package of letters. He left one on Miss Kramer's desk, went on without speaking, left one on the next desk, on every desk.

Miss Kramer opened hers and read with terror:

"On account of the winding-up of business we shall be unable to utilize your services after Saturday next. A check for two weeks' salary is enclosed herewith."