

SHORT CUTS TO WEALTH

FAR TOO MANY PEOPLE WANT DIAMONDS, DECOLLETE GOWNS, TAILORED SUITS AND SILK SHIRTS WITHOUT FIRST BEING WILLING TO USE ALARM CLOCKS, APRONS, OVERALLS, AND FLANNEL SHIRTS.

THERE IS TOO MUCH ENVY OF WEALTH AND TOO LITTLE WILLINGNESS TO WORK FOR IT.

Today Needs Little Water.

The famous lead, rather than the usual, would be the prohibitionists' emblem; says the Popular Science Monthly. That this animal can live for 119 years not only without water, but in an absolutely dry atmosphere has been demonstrated by Prof. F. C. Hall of the University of Wisconsin.

Origin of "Publican."

In England the keeper of a public house is called a publican and he is probably so-called because he is it were on the telephone and perhaps sometimes extorted and the publican got so fixed in the speech of the people that it found its place in the law and under English statute.

In the term publican included innkeepers, hotel-keepers, keepers of saloons and wine vaults, etc. We speak of a hotel, keeper as a publican or a Boniface, or mine host.

Dante.

He would not have been the great poet he was if he had not felt intensely and humanly, but he could never have on the cosmopolitan place he lived he had not known how to generalize his special experience.—James Russell Lowell.

Turpentine the Pine.

Successful seasons of turpentine cause no lowering in strength or resin content of pine trees, states the forest products laboratory of Wisconsin. The crude turpentine is the result of natural stimulus, and comes only from living cells in the sap wood region of the tap bore. The heart wood, which consists of dead cells, contains no sap.—Scientific American.

Electrical Hair Cutting.

There is in use in France an electric substitute for the barber's scissors. It consists of a comb carrying along one side of its row of teeth a platinum wire through which flows an electric current. As the comb passes through the locks to be shorn the heated wire instantaneously severs the hairs, leaving them of even length and sealing the cut ends as in the ordinary process of singeing with a taper.

Favorite Stones of the Past.

Rings of the Middle Ages had turquoise and emeralds as favorite stones and in that age of chivalry it was but natural that the cut of arms on rings should become the fashion. In the Renaissance, diamonds were used for the first time. The cuttings were very rough, the tools of jewelers being crude, and for softer stones, were easily cut or carved. Then appeared the emerald ornamentation, and some of the rings of those days contained miniature perfume boxes.
