

HE TOOK HYPOCOD GAINED EIGHT POUNDS

Mr. Clemens Man Had No Appetite
And Was Weak And Run Down
Until He Took Hypo-Cod

Samuel Jones of Mt. Clemens, Mich., says that he feels like a different man since he took Hypo-Cod. He was in a run down weak condition and had scarcely any appetite and was unable to get any rest at night. He was nervous and getting thinner and thinner every day. Everything he ate seemed to disagree with him. After taking four bottles of Hypo-Cod he could eat anything and at any time and not suffer for it afterwards. He gained in strength and took on eight pounds of flesh. He is now able to sleep throughout the night and wake up refreshed and rested. He feels that others who suffered as he did should know of this great medicine and give it a chance to bring them back to health as he was brought back. Hypo-Cod is a wonderful and powerful health building tonic and over a million and one-half bottles have been sold. It is growing more popular every day and is making true friends wherever it is taken. It will do all that is claimed for it and you will like its pleasant wine-like flavor. Get a bottle from your druggist today or send $1.00 to the Earle Chemical Co., of Wheeling, W. Va., for a full size bottle to be sent your prepaid advertisement.

My Thanksgiving seasons
Frank H. Sweet

There are very many reasons why I am glad today. I've had my sweet Thanksgiving seasons just all along the way.

I can recall a springtime morning. All green and daisy white. When first the buds of fragrant beauty I plucked a violet.

And then a wonder-night in winter. All white on field and hill. I thought I heard God's stars go singing. Above me world so still.

I can recall a day in summer. All sweet with flower perfume. My heart's air sang with gladness. To see God's world in bloom.

And then a bitter storm at midnight. When through the lightning's glare I saw the fishing waves roll toward me. Yet know that God was there.

Oh, there are very many reasons why I am glad today. I've had my own Thanksgiving seasons just all along the way.

Thanksgiving Pelatritu

The Thanksgiving idea is controlled by relativity. The men and women who established this strictly American festival three centuries ago were thankful because the famine threatened by the summer drought did not come. They found themselves possessed of plenty—that is, enough to eat. Indeed, those who had endured the perils of the sea in the Mayflower and the hardships of the first winter in the Plymouth colony their Thanksgiving dinner was a rare feast.

Now, of course, every country has enough to eat. And if we have been through all things that the Pilgrims experienced a plenteous of beef stew would seem wonderful. Providence has helped to preserve Thanksgiving relativity. It prevents turkeys from being too numerous, keeps the price of them so high that they are a holiday luxury and thus reminds the ultimate consumer of his benefits.

The Pilgrims had plenty of wild turkey, venison, ducks, geese and bass, all obtained at no profiteering rates. But they had no butter, sugar or coffee and their bread was made of Indian corn. The general dinner, however, was such a treat to the stiff meals of the hungry months that they indulged in feasting and mirth.

A citizen of 1923 would not be happy if he were transported to the Pilgrim Thanksgiving dinner of 1620. He would remember what a treat to him about eating too much meat. He would find that the food had not hung long enough. He would not understand why the people were so generally grateful to God for the turkey he had not been with them in the days when as far as corn was the only dinner.

Nor would one of the good old colonists be happy in the large cities. What were Indian arrows as compared with firing squads? What were the stocks beside a full dress collar? What is this pie, rather than turkey meat as compared with the breast of a wild geese? What can you be thankful for? The Pilgrim would ask: "The 'no' is everything knows not the goodness of anything." And his neighbor by dinner could only tell him that the heavenly item in the newspaper is saying that strawberries were $2.75 a quart.

It is hard, with the granaries of the country stuffed to bursting, to base this Thanksgiving on the old reasons. But there are things to be grateful for. There is no epidemic and there is practically no unemployment; men have work and the chance to work. Men are out of the slough of the Era of Inflation and suffering harder. The country ignores the howls of the biologist and the flatterings of foreign politicians. It gets along. With all its faults it is still the best part of this wicked world. Nor will we eat our turkey alone on our own particular holiday. No hungry billion has asked us for help and seems to turn away.

ODD SEA MONSTER IS FOUND

It is Eight Feet Long and Resembles an Elephant Without a Trunk and a Whale.

There has been exhibited in Buenos Aires what South American scientists believe to be a hitherto unknown sea monster, captured some twenty-five miles from the coast near Mar del Plata. It was at first supposed to be a shell-less sea turtle, but expert examination shows this is not the case.

It resembles rather an elephant without a trunk, or, more properly, an enormous elephant's head with ears almost perfectly identical with those of that animal. It also has some features similar to those of a whale. Its color is brown, the mouth is large and superficial.

It is nearly eight feet long and approximately four and a half feet in diameter. It has two vertical fins behind, one above and one below, remindingly suggesting the screws of a propeller. The flesh is almost as elastic as rubber.—LIVING AGE.

Hard labor has its recompense—rest. cue to keep alert.

Record Mountain Climbing.
A record of climbing 30 mountains at the rate of one every day has been made by a California schoolmaster. On a camping trip in Glacier National park, Norman Clyde of Weaverville, Cal., set out to reach the tops of as many peaks as possible in the shortest space of time, and, according to the bureau of national parks, his total of 36 is unique. The last peak climbed by Clyde was Mount Wilbur, the summit of which is almost 10,000 feet. Clyde, who is thirty-eight, has had long experience in mountain climbing as a member of the Sierra club of San Francisco. He claims that evidence shows him to have been the first to attain the summit of eleven mountains.
