With new ownership, a new president and a new corporate marriage. H&H Supply Inc. is in both the automotive and aircraft industries.

H&H Supply for 42 years has been a manufacturer and dis-tributor of automotive chemi-cals that new and used car dealers use to clean and beau-tify their wares.

Recently the company was purchased by John E. Ken-nedy of Margate, Fla, and James R. Brown of 47111 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

Sellers were Charles Heiser-man and Harry Hobson, who founded the firm in Detroit in 1928, moved first to Redford Township and then came in Adults may now register by mail or in person for any of the courses being offered in 24 different subject areas. Livonia and Redford will be the scene of classes.

Ranging from higher level and middle management courses to those in electronic data processing and numerical control technology, the courses meet once a week for 12 weeks and are held at AMTC Head-quarters, 2978 W. Grand Bird, the Wayne State University Main Campus and at 10 subur-ban locations.

Observerland locations in-clude Livonia's Franklin High School, Joy Roadeastof Merri-man, and South Redford's Thurston High School, School-craft west of Beech-Daly.

Other locations include Allen Park and Trenton in the southwest metropolitan area: Oak Park. Madison Heights and Troy in the northern area; and Mt. Clemens. St. Clair Shores and Utica in the east.

Classes are scheduled from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at AMTC head-quarters and on campus; those in the suburbs run from 7-9 p.m. Classes are also held on Saturday mornings. Counseling service is also available at the center.

For complete course or reg-istration information, tele-phone WSU at 577-4710.
